SUMMIT TALKS COLLAPSE

Conrad, Morrison Meet To Heal Split

. . . Demo Co-operation Pledged

By Don Walton

The first concrete move to heal the primary election split in the Democratic Party was taken in Lincoln Tuesday.

Gubernatorial nominee Frank Morrison and Administrative Assistant Robert Conrad—opponents in last week's election—lunched to discuss the coming campaign.

Morrison

Conrad

The pair, at odds for the past 8 months, will probably issue a joint statement within the next several days.

The statement will be keyed to a united Democratic effort to elect all the party's nominees in November.

Morrison said he discussed with Conrad "what could be done to promote the coming campaign."

'Help Pledged'

Conrad, aide to Gov. Ralph Brooks, "pledged his co-operation and assistance," Morrison noted.

"We are primarily interested in getting everybody who believes in our program together to work toward that end," Morrison pointed out.

Conrad—who originated the luncheon invitation—said he "invited Mr. Morrison to lunch in order that we could discuss ways in which to accomplish the election of Democrats in November."

Conrad was formerly executive secretary of the Democratic state central committee, and aided in Morrison's 1958 senatorial campaign in that position.

More Talks Seen

Further talks between the pair are likely.

The Conrad-Morrison split opened last September when the latter announced his gubernatorial candidacy.

Reaction from some party spokesmen who were attending a Democratic Midwest Conference in Kansas City at the time widened the breach.

During the campaign, charges of machine politics further broadened the rift.

But, the effort to close ranks for the coming general election struggle with Republican candidates is now underway.

Kennedy Victor In Maryland

Baltimore (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) scored an easy, lopsided victory Tuesday, piling up more votes than anyone ever had received before in a Maryland presidential primary.

Kennedy quickly jumped far ahead of Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore). He won going away.

With returns almost complete, 1,353 of 1,356 polling places reporting, the scoreboard looked like this:

Kennedy 200,252
Morse 49,225

Far in the rear were a couple of habitual office seekers, Lar Daly of Chicago, who had 7,033 votes, and Andrew J. Easter of Baltimore, with 3,691.

Democratic voters could also have decided they preferred to send an uninstructed delegation to the national Democratic convention. But this suggestion ran a poor third with 24,103.

Kennedy got around 70% of the Democratic votes.

In 1952, while running against an uninstructed delegation, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) got 134,000 votes. In 1936, when registration lists were lower, Franklin D. Roosevelt collected 100,000 votes in the primary here.

Kennedy, campaigning in Oregon for the primary there Friday, sent back this statement:

"This strong endorsement in Maryland will have great significance to delegates in the Los Angles convention, especially when considered in connection with the 5 other primary victories" in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Indiana, Nebraska and, the shocker last week, West Virginia.

Shuns Russia

Indianapolis (AP) — The American Legion's National Commander advised Americans to shun travel in Russia because an invitation for a visit by President Eisenhower was withdrawn.

OMAHA BOY DIES IN LAKE

Omaha (AP)—Freddie Walker, 13, of Omaha, was drowned in Carter Lake when he fell off a barge about 25 to 30 feet from shore into 8 feet of water.

He fell off backward after having walked onto the barge for a look over the lake.

West Promised More Showers, Nice Elsewhere

Scattered showers and thunderstorms were predicted for the western half of Nebraska Wednesday, an area which had light rainfall Tuesday.

Scottsbluff, Sidney, Chadron, North Platte and Alliance all reported light rain showers Tuesday. The extreme western edges of Perkins, Chase and Dundy Counties were in a severe thunderstorm warning area Tuesday evening.

Wednesday temperatures were to remain nearly the same as Tuesday with highs from 65 to 75. Tuesday ranged from 75 at the Lincoln airport to 63 at Sidney.

Demo Offers Medical Care Bill 'Surprise'

Washington (UPI) — A House Democratic leader, in a surprise move, Tuesday proposed a new plan for medical care for the aged which is closer to the recommendation of the administration than the program sought by organized labor.

The compromise plan was advanced secretly by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark); at a closed meeting of his House Ways and Means Committee, which has been studying the problem for weeks without any decision.

One informed source said he understood that Mills claimed privately to have 8 of the 10 committee Republicans lined up in support of his proposal and that Mills intended to press for a showdown committee vote Wednesday.

DEMONSTRATORS URGED TO MOVE

Negroes demonstrating in observance of the sixth anniversary of the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision were ordered by Atlanta police to move along when they gathered in front of the Georgia capitol Tuesday.

Desegregation Observances Bring Out Negro Marchers

Atlanta (AP) — More than 2,000 marching Negro students were forced to bypass Georgia's heavily guarded capitol Tuesday during a demonstration marking the sixth anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court order outlawing public school segregation.

The Atlanta march was one of a series of racial developments in many parts of the nation during the day.

An attempt to integrate a lunchroom in the Alabama capitol at Montgomery fizzled, sitdowns were staged at Memphis, Tenn., 10,000 persons turned out for a New York rally, and the federal government stepped into the Mississippi gulf coast beach controversy.

Atlanta students parading two-by-two toward the capitol of the deep south state were stopped north of the structure by police chief Herbert Jenkins. He ordered the singing, textbook carrying demonstrators to bypass the capitol and they complied quietly.

Then the marchers went to the Negro Wheat Street Baptist Church where the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. told them their march "has been an inspiration . . . to people all over the world who are working for human dignity."

Meanwhile an estimated 4,000 white persons and Negro spectators milled about the Georgia capitol. More than 100 state troopers armed with clubs kept the crowds from congregating in one spot on state property.

City police later dispersed several hundred persons crowded on street corners across from the capitol building.

The troopers took their stand on orders of Gov. Ernest Vandiver who said he would "not tolerate demonstrations which might incite violence and riots."

Not Served

Two of the 9 Alabama state college students who were expelled for an earlier antisegregation demonstration were refused service in a lunchroom at the state capitol in Montgomery. Highway patrolmen escorted Elroy Emory and St. John Dixon from the building but did not file any charges against them.

Five arrests and a minor scuffle marked sitdowns by 9 Negro college students at Memphis, Tenn.

Three boys and two girls were refused service at a downtown drug store counter and the store closed. The students sat in the empty establishment for 2 hours and 40 minutes before police arrested them. Officers said they acted after an anonymous bomb threat against the store.

At a variety store counter, white youths seized two Negroes and shoved them out on to the sidewalk. However, two Negro girls sat at the counter until the store closed at its usual hour and then left peacefully.

An estimated 10,000 garment center workers took part in an outdoor rally in New York marking the anniversary of the supreme court decision. The rally also served to protest tax evasion charges lodged against King in Alabama.

STILL NO POLIO

The State Health Department said Tuesday the state has passed another polio-free week.

So far this year the state has a perfect record with no polio cases reported. A year ago at this time there were three cases recorded.

Special Session On Right-Of-Way Problems Not The Answer: Brooks

By Betty Person

Gov. Ralph Brooks said Tuesday night that he does not believe a special session of the Legislature would answer Interstate Highway right-of-way problems in view of possible constitutional restrictions.

"I'm in favor of seeking remedies to the problems," said the governor, "but I think they can be handled through administrative procedure."

The question of a possible special session arose earlier Tuesday when Sen. John Munnelly of Omaha made a formal request for one to the governor when Brooks arrived in Omaha to discuss land acquisition problems with South Omaha residents.

Brooks was in Omaha to hear complaints and provide information to owners of property in the path of Interstate Routes 1 and 3.

Munnelly said a special session should be limited to certain aspects of the Interstate program, and that these included:

—Enactment of legislation to provide for reimbursement of at least a portion of real estate taxes to persons whose property is taken in mid-year. The present law makes no provision for prorated reimbursement.

—Payment of severance damages for intangible losses to owners of businesses.

—A more specific procedure for reappraisal of property where the owner is dissatisfied with the initial appraisal.

Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha, who also met with the governor in the Highway Department's Omaha right-of-way office, said he might favor a special session if it were restricted solely to the matter of the tax problem.

The governor also had said earlier that he might favor a special session on only the tax matter if it were possible.

Upon further investigation, the governor said it appeared there might be constitutional restrictions to Sen. Munnelly's proposals.

Shunning Grass Juice, Hikers Eat Fried Fowl

By Dean Terrill

Central City — There's nothing like a piece of Nebraska fried chicken to pep up a picnic.

That goes double, say a couple of British sergeants, if the picnic is part of a 3,022-mile spring stroll.

Patrick Moloney, 34, and Mervyn Evans, 33, started their very American noon meal near Central City Tuesday with drumsticks and ended it with apple pie. They scoffed at the grass juice preference of their fellow-countryman but hiking rival —Dr. Barbara Moore.

"We just want the cook to give us a good hearty diet," said Evans, "just so there is plenty of it."

Roy's The Chef

Sgt. Roy Rogers, who is neither a cowboy nor hiker, handles cooking chores from the small trailer accompanying the record-seeking pair. Noting their taste for "almost anything that's found in a supermarket," he reviewed the strict schedule by which the paratroopers hope to walk from San Francisco to New York in 68 days.

Hitting a brisk cadence which takes them 4 to 4½ miles an hour, they cover 45 to 50 miles daily. Besides an hour for lunch, they take brief morning and afternoon breaks.

After setting 3 British marathon records, the pair decided to try the United States crossing after they discovered that the record of 79 days, 10 hours and 10 minutes had stood since 1926. They were given 3 months' leave, from the 16th Independent Parachute Brigade, preceded by an 8-month training period.

Now Halfway

Encountering several types of storms before reaching the nation's half-way point near Overton, Neb., they have been well satisfied with Nebraska's sunshine. They noted that Nebraska's highways are the narrowest they have traveled but like the traction of the "little black strips" which have widened them in some places.

Tuesday night's sleeping stop was scheduled for Osceola, and at 6 a.m. Friday the men expect to leave Nebraska over an Omaha bridge.

Although agreeing that theirs is "the hardest way to see the country," they aren't ready to admit it is the slowest. Several times they have passed the same pair of hitch-hikers, and believe maybe they have overtaken them for good.

Ike Won't Apologize

EAST-WEST COLD WAR IS GROWING ICY

By William L. Ryan

Paris (AP)—The summit conference ended Tuesday night with East and West bitterly blaming each other for its failure.

To the last minute Soviet Premier Khrushchev insisted that he could not meet with the West unless President Eisenhower apologized for the U2 spy incident and promised to punish those responsible.

Eisenhower refused to go beyond a statement that such flights over the Soviet Union are ended.

The Western leaders met twice during the day, waiting for Khrushchev to appear. He refused to so until, as he put it, the United States gave him satisfaction. Last-ditch efforts by the British, through a meeting between Foreign Ministers Andrei Gromyko and Selwyn Lloyd, failed to break the impasse.

West's Communique

Finally, at 10:30 p.m., the Western powers issued this communique:

"The President of the United States, the President of the French Republic and the prime minister of the United Kingdom take note of the fact that because of the attitude adopted by the chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Soviet Union it has not been possible to begin, at the summit conference, the examination of the problems which it had been agreed would be discussed between the 4 chiefs of state or government.

"They regret that these discussions, so important for world peace, could not take place. For their part, they remain unshaken in their conviction that all outstanding international questions should be settled not by the use or threat of force but by peaceful means through negotiation. They themselves remain ready to take part in such negotiations at any suitable time in the future."

Blames United States

Khrushchev, on the other hand, in a final statement issued by the Soviet delegation said the United States "by its acts of aggression, committed against the Soviet Union on the eve of the summit conference and by its obstinate refusal to assume responsibility for these acts, has torpedoed this conference."

Khrushchev expects to pay a courtesy call on President Charles de Gaulle Wednesday before leaving Paris. He is stopping in Berlin on his way home to see Walter Ulbricht, the East German communist boss, but leading Communists there denied Khrushchev would sign an immediate peace treaty with the East German regime.

President Eisenhower will stay in Paris through Wednesday.

British Prime Minister Macmillan is going home Thursday to report to parliament.

The death knell to summit hopes was sounded as the Western Big 3 announcement was read to a tense news conference.

Look Ahead 6 Months

A spokesman for the British said the Russians still expressed interest in a summit 6 or 8 months hence. There will be a new administration in Washington next Jan. 20.

Notes, statements and telephone calls followed one another as tension mounted during the day. The Western leaders met for two hours. Later Eisenhower, de Gaulle and Macmillan conferred 15 minutes to sum up the situation. Despite the stress, Eisenhower seemed in genial mood as he reached de Gaulle's Elysee palace. A few persons in the waiting crowd booed him, but boos were drowned by cheers from the rest.

White House press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked whether the breakup of the summit would affect Soviet-Western talks on disarmament at Geneva.

"So far as I know," Hagerty replied, "those conferences are in session — or will be in session, rather. The United States will continue to attend."

When the summit session convened Monday for its fruitless 3-hour preliminary meeting, Khrushchev withdrew his invitation to Eisenhower to visit Soviet Russia in June. American spokesmen Tuesday pictured Eisenhower's attitude as one of complete disgust with the Soviet leader's attitude.

West Joins In Blasting At Torpedo

London (AP) — Reaction in Western Europe to the death of the summit conference ranged from disappointment and fear to calls for a tightening of the Western alliance and for firmness in the face of Soviet truculence.

It was generally conceded Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was to blame for torpedoing the long-awaited talks.

"Wickedly—wantonly —and tragically, Khrushchev has killed the summit." Britain's Daily Mirror thus summed up Western Europe's anger, disappointment—and alarm—at the way the Soviet leader had killed hopes for a new era of East-West peace.

Barrage

The Russians kept up a barrage of abuse against the United States which, they claimed, was alone responsible for breaking up the Paris conference.

In a front page editorial West Germany's Frankfurt Allgemeine asserted:

The spirit of Camp David is dead and the ghost of Paris walks abroad. Threats and fears are haunting us in its shadow."

Grave Crisis

Khrushchev, it declared, had deliberately steered the world into its "gravest crisis since 1945."

"Next crisis—Berlin," predicted an 8-column banner line in London's Laborite Daily Mirror.

"Death certificate for the torpedoed summit," headlines Copenhagen's Socialist Aktuelt. It made clear it thought Khrushchev fired the torpedo.

In the Netherlands, Foreign Minister Joseph Luns told parliament:

Confidence

"I have full confidence that the West will be firm in the face of Khrushchev's new threatening attitude. United, we should have no fear of the future."

The prevalent feeling was that the Russians had embarked on their own brand of brinkmanship — a concept never popular in this vulnerable part of the world.

President Eisenhower was widely praised for his restraint in the face of Khrushchev's browbeating at Monday's crucial meeting.

Today's Chuckle

If the current inflationary trend continues indefinitely, by 1975 people will be saying, "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigarette."

Tactics Of Khrushchev Have Solidified West

SPLIT IS AVOIDED

By J. M Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

Nikita Khrushchev's brutal tactics at Paris seem to be pulling the Western allies back from one of the greatest splits they ever faced.

Eurpoean public opinion, which has been highly critical of a long series of American pre-summit mistakes, is now swinging back behind President Eisenhower.

But the split between East and West, barring a fantastic reversal of position on both sides before the official planes take off from Paris, is the worst ever. Personal diplomacy has produced a break in communication.

Khrushchev's demand for punishment of Americans who were only carrying national policy is an impossible one, and his treatment of President Eisenhower intolerable.

Scuttling Planned

It appears he intended to scuttle the conference, regardless of the U2 incident, because he knew he would get no concessions on Berlin.

How can the nations now get back on the search for real coexistence, not Khrushchev's submissive coexistence for everyone else, but coexistence even as good as what we have had?

Has personal diplomacy at top levels, on the ascendant since Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin, taken a fatal beating?

The West has always been suspicious of summitry, since failure there tends to produce a point of no return. There must be a return, since war cannot be contemplated. But how?

New Crises Faced

Paris (AP) — The free world today faced the specter of grim new cold warfare following failure of the summit talks.

"It's going to be a tough summer," said an authority at the center of Western policy making. "The policy of East-West detente (relaxation) is dead for the time being."

American, British and French leaders evidently consider the main and immediate weight of Soviet pressure will be applied against their exposed position in West Berlin.

They were reported bracing also to meet crises in the disarmament and nuclear test ban talks.

Finally there are fears of new trials of strength in the Far East with Red China whose influence on the uncompromising positions taken here by Nikita Khrushchev is thought to have been decisive.

Beverly Aadland Tells Court She Wants To Leave Mother

Los Angeles (UPI) — Beverly Aadland said Tuesday she did not want to return to her mother and a juvenile court judge announced he would make a decision on the girl's custody within the next two days.

The 17-year old blonde girl, last playmate of the late actor Errol Flynn, told Judge Allen Miller that she wanted to "go on the road" and continue her career as a night club entertainer.

Beverly, in custody of juvenile authorities since a boy friend was shot to death accidentally in her apartment April 9, spoke at a closed hearing but her testimony was related by her attorney, Sam Brody.

Her mother, platinum-haired Florence Adland, 53, testified briefly and denied any wrongdoing in connection with the girl.

Mrs. Adland told a newsman afterwards, "I feel a lot of good things are being done for her here. I want the best for Beverly." She indicated she would not fight to regain custody of the teenager.

The juvenile court hearing was called on a district attorney's complaint alleging Mrs. Adland allowed Beverly to drink intoxicating liquors, have dates with older men and in general with contributing to the girl's delinquency.

Attorney Brody, in telling of Beverly's wish to continue her career, said, "Beverly told the court she feels she shouldn't go back to her mother. She explained to Judge Miller that her mother is not a good influence and implied that Mrs. Adland was responsible for some of her troubles."

Water Meet Set For Bismarck

Omaha (AP)—A meeting will be held in Bismarck Thursday under the sponsorship of the Mississippi Valley Assn. to discuss water resource development in the upper Missouri Valley.

James R. Smith, vice president of the association in Omaha, said the purpose of the conference will be to develop additional ways to encourage the early construction of planned irrigation projects in the upper valley, particularly the Garrison diversion project in North Dakota and the Oahe-James River project in South Dakota.

Police Checking Store Burglary

Police were checking leads Tuesday into the burglary of the Safeway Store, 16th and South, which happened during the past weekend.

A set of footprints and some blood marks were found at the scene but police indicated these might not have anything to do with the burglary.

Police planned to talk to some sources who reported seeing "strange" persons around the store.

The amount taken in the burglary has not yet been reported, police said.

Dog That Bit Girl Thought Vaccinated

A dog which bit a 6-year-old Lincoln girl Tuesday morning was apparently vaccinated, the father of the girl reported.

Hope Harrelson of 4019 Huntington, said he checked with the dog's owner after his daughter, Kathryn, was bitten on the left leg in front of a house in the vicinity of 46th and Baldwin.

'Mad-Dog' Killer Put To Death

Wethersfield, Conn. (AP) — Joseph Taborsky, who took part in 7 macabre slayings, died Tuesday night in the electric chair after saying he had accepted religion.

It took 3 minutes and 15 seconds for the state to end the life of the 36-year-old "mad-dog killer," who began his career of crime by stealing a bicycle at the age of 11.

Taborsky, who decided against making an appeal that would have delayed his execution, appeared calm and resigned when strapped into the chair.

Before he entered the green execution room, he told state prison Warden Mark S. Richmond that he had accepted religion.

Taborsky was put to death for slaying two persons 3½ years ago in a New Britain filling station holdup. The other man accused with him, Arthur Culombe, was to have died Tuesday night, but he appealed his case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The state said Taborsky and Culombe killed 6 persons in late 1956 and early 1957 when they embarked on a vicious campaign of robbery and murder. They forced their victims to kneel, then shot them in the back of the head.

Taborsky also admitted a seventh slaying, that of a West Hartford liquor store operator in 1951.

Chicago Stevedores To Start Strike Soon

Chicago (UPI) — Federal mediators announced Wednesday that talks to avert a walkout of 2,000 Chicago longshoremen had broken down and the stevedores would go on strike.

"The mediation conference just blew up and the union will be on strike soon," Charles Alsip, regional director of the federal mediation service, said in a statement.

Red Space Ship Doing Good Job, Tass Reports

Moscow (AP)—Tass said the giant Soviet space ship continues to send back a wealth of space information after 3 days in orbit around the earth.

The Soviet news agency said all scientific and measuring instruments set up in a pressurized cabin aboard the satellite were functioning perfectly.

The agency said that by 6 p.m. Tuesday, Moscow time, the ship carrying a dummy had circled the earth 43 times.

Disappearing Act

Cambridge, Mass (AP)—Russia's space ship will disappear from visual sightings in the United States on Thursday, the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said.

The sky cruiser may not reappear to observers in this country for 3 weeks, an observatory spokesman said.

During this period, it will soar over northern Canada and polar terrain, he said.

Early End Predicted

Honolulu (UPI) — A University of Hawaii professor predicted an early and fiery death for Russia's Sputnik IV satellite.

Prof. Ralph E. Partridge said the Soviet space ship satellite "is inside the atmosphere and just barely skimming along."

Congressman Irked Over Spying Funds

Washington (UPI) — Rep. William H. Meyer (D-Vt) maintained his constitutional rights and duties as a House member were violated by secret Congressional approval of U.S. spy funds.

Meyer, in a speech to the House, called for an inquiry "leading to remedial action."

Meyer cited recent affirmation that annual appropriations for the Central Intelligence Agency have been considered by a subcommittee of the House Appropriations subcommittee and then hidden in funds for other agencies. Spy flights over Russia also were approved in advance by this subcommittee.

Most house and Senate members, he said, never get a chance to consider the intelligence funds, nor were they appraised of the espionage flights. He said this was in violation of the constitution, which vests defense powers in Congress generally, not in certain of its members.

Chessman Estate To Legal Aide

San Ran Rafael, Calif. (AP)—The woman attorney whose name was on Caryl Chessman's lips as he was executed May 2 was named his sole beneficiary.

His will, filed Tuesday for probate, said Rosalia Asher, one of his attorneys, had oral instructions on how to distribute the estate.

Chessman, whose 12 year death row fight against execution drew worldwide attention, estimated the value at not more than $5,000. He also left to Miss Asher's handling the royalties still to come from books he wrote on death row.

Both the will and a handwritten codicil were dated May 1. That was the day before he died in San Quentin prison's gas chamber for kidnaping two women in Los Angeles in 1948 and forcing them into unnatural sex acts.

After the 38-year-old convict was strapped to a chair in the gas chamber and the door was sealed, his lips formed "tell Rosalie I said goodbye." Then the lethal hydrocyanic acid fumes suffocated him.

The will mentioned only one relative, Richard W. Chessman, of Chicago, identified as an uncle. It referred his or any other claims to Miss Asher.

The will appointed Joseph E. Longstreth, of Richmond, Ind., publisher of Chessman's books, as literary executor, but reserved all handling of royalties to Miss Asher.

LAFB 98th Bomb Wing Cited For Safety Record

Omaha (AP)—The Strategic Air Command cited the 98th Bomb Wing at Lincoln Air Force Base for completion of two years of flight operations without an aircraft accident.

The 98th was one of 4 units honored by the SAC Hall of Fame.

Scooter Hits Curb

Kenneth J. Shaner, 20, of 2560 Kessler Blvd., was treated and later released from a local hospital after his motorscooter went out of control and struck a curb at 30th and Calvert Tuesday, police said. Shaner told police he was trying to avoid hitting a dog when the mishap occurred.

Chamber, Professional Units Urged To Form Closer Ties

A closer tie between the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce and professional groups was advocated Tuesday at a meeting of the Lancaster County Medical Assn.

Speaking before more than 125 persons attending the meeting, William Gold, president of the Chamber, urged the group to submit suggestions for improvement and to aid the Chamber in carrying out a program to encourage more business to move into the Lincoln area.

Gold said one of the main problems facing the Chamber is getting people to think Lincoln is a great city.

'Sell Lincoln'

"We have to sell Lincoln to Lincolnites," he said.

Another Chamber representative, John Fraker, executiveb vice president, said professional men can make 100 times more contacts with outside business interests than the Chamber itself. Fraker urged full-scale support of the Association in a program of this nature.

Fraker said the problem of encouraging new businesses is a 7 step program:

1. Proper facilities available.
2. Knowledge of industrial development.
3. Getting prospects.
4. Getting in touch with prospects.
5. Followup.
6. Development of a technical team.
7. Location of the business in the trade area if no arrangements can be made to locate the business in Lincoln.

$200,000 In Flood Gear Being Used

Federal equipment worth $205,121 has been distributed to civil defense organizations throughout Nebraska for flood repair work under the emergency declared by President Eisenhower.

The President had authorized an allocation of $400,000 in such equipment for the state, but that amount was not needed, according to Dwayne Gardner, surplus property director for the State Department of Education.

The equipment consists of earth-moving machines, mostly graders and dump trucks.

These are classified as federal excess property and are on 60-day loan to the state from the General Services Administration, Gardner said.

Woman Fractures Leg As City Bus Stops Suddenly

Mrs. Julia A. Johnston, 57, of 4101 No. 65th, suffered a fractured leg while she was riding on a city bus Tuesday, police reported.

Driver of the bus, William M. Lovelace of 1533 No. 29th, said the incident happened near 66th and Logan when a car which was traveling north suddenly stopped, causing Lovelace to apply the brakes suddenly.

Mrs. Johnston, who was hospitalized was thrown backwards off balance during the incident, police said.

Mrs. E. Souders Discovered Dead

Mrs. Ethel A. Souders, 76, of 445 No. 10th, was found dead in her home early Tuesday by a meter reader, police said.

The County Sheriff's office reported the woman died of natural causes.

The body was found by Raymond E. Campbell of 3732 Baldwin, police reported.

Khrush Hung On Iowa Lamppost

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—An effigy of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was found hanging from a lamppost in downtown Cedar Rapids Tuesday afternoon.

Tacked to the well-padded dummy was a paper which read: Death to Khrushchev, the fat man. Police removed the dummy.

Missile-Age 'Hawkers' Turn Back The Clock In Havelock

By Roger Wait

It's 1960, to be sure, but the prices, costumes and general atmosphere of "Hawkers Day" turned Havelock Ave. Tuesday into a small-town business district of the good old days.

Way back when men sported handlebar mustaches and women wore sun bonnets, peanuts for the kids were 5 cents a bag and beer for their elders was 5 cents a glass.

Such were typical prices at Havelock's second "Hawkers Day." The first one was part of last year's Capital City Centennial.

From their merchandise-laden sidewalk booths, Havelock merchants in gay '90s costumes cried their wares and in true market-place fashion tried to lure customers through open doorways.

20,000 Attend

Dressed in casual clothes of modern suburban living, the elbow-jostling throng of more than 20,000 marveled at the dollar's temporarily boosted purchasing power.

Nowadays, coffee and a hamburger cost 45 cents, but the "Hawkers Day" going price was 15 cents for soda pop and a "kcolevahburger" (Havelock turned around).

All that and 25 cents for 3 pounds of bananas brought out eloquence in old-timers.

They turned out in droves and recalled the days when the main street of Havelock, then a separate town, was ruts of mud and dust, lined with hitching posts.

And they reminisced about corn fields between the suburb and Uni Place, "away over yonder."

Without honking traffic to worry them, the crowds milled about from noon to 9 p.m. enjoying a quasi-carnival atmosphere favored by the weather's change of pace.

And everywhere were kids, kids and more kids.

They darted about in tennis shoes, faded blue jeans, Indian feathers and "deputy sheriff" badges. They clustered around rides on Shetland ponies, miniature trains and tractors.

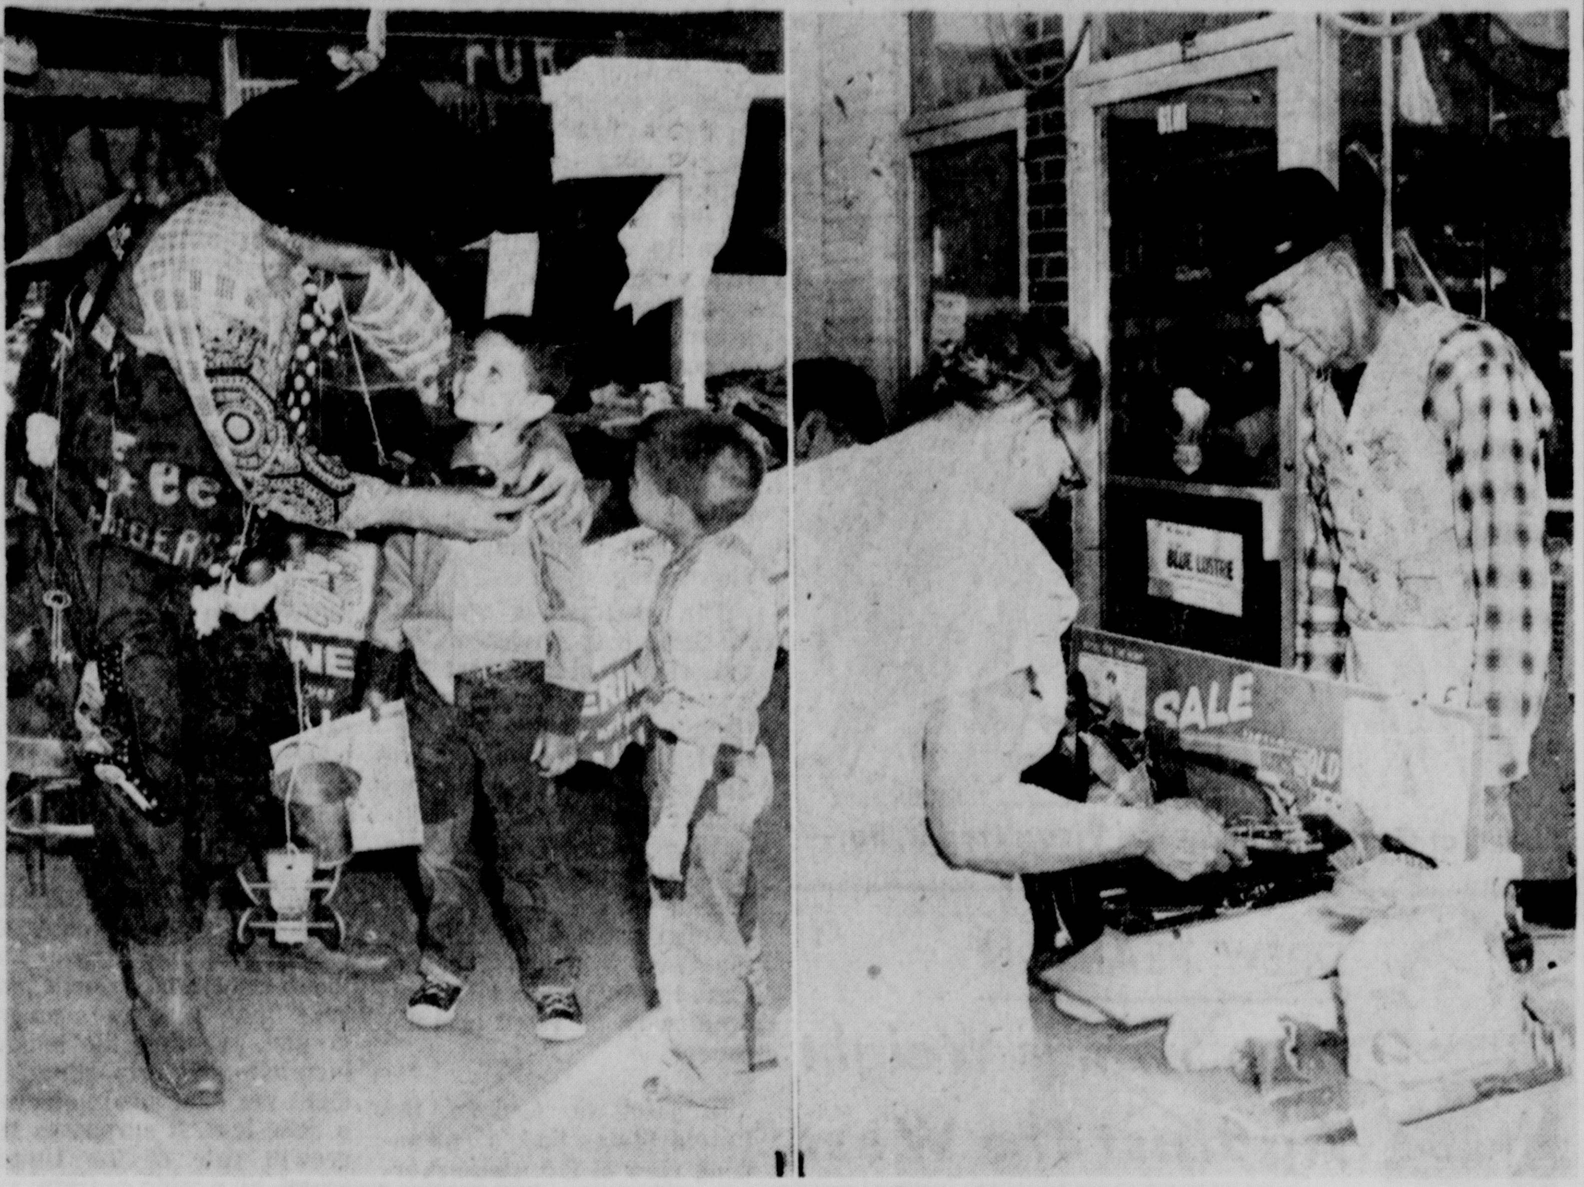
And as at any holiday-like event, they devoured popcorn, peanuts, ice cream and cotton candy. No doubt they had more than ordinarily because the prices were less painful for dad.

No fair of any kind is complete without entertainment, and "Hawkers Day" had plenty of that.

Chief hawker Urvin Broadwater emceed the day's proceedings from atop a flatbed truck trailer in the middle of 62nd and Havelock.

Featured in the afternoon were the Dixielanders combo and the Howard Sisters, a Western singing act, both from Northeast High.

Evening shows spotlighted the University of Nebraska's Varsity 5 and Elmwood's 7 Sizzling Sons of the Sod.



EVERYBODY WAS A DEPUTY IN HAVELOCK

Dozens of "deputy sheriffs" abounded in downtown Havelock Tuesday. At left, well-equipped "Hawkers Day" cowboy Warren Griffith deputizes John David Saylor, 5½, as brother Gregory, 4, looks on. They're sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Saylor of 4100 Mohawk. At right, deputized hawker L. C. Wyman waits for two customers to choose the wares they want.

FDA's Dr. Welch Plans Retirement

Washington (UPI) — Senators investigating a top Food and Drug Administration official on conflict of interest charges were told he has applied for and been approved for retirement for physical reasons.

The disclosure was made by Arthur S. Fleming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, who issued a statement in defense of Dr. Henry Welch, $17,500-a-year chief of the FHA's Antibiotics Division.

The hearings into Welch's outside activities as editor of private medical publications were abruptly postponed when GOP Senators introduced Fleming's statement and charged they had not been given opportunity to study the "evidence" against him.

TV Networks Offer Time To Candidates

Washington (AP) — NBC and CBS, the nation's largest TV networks, said Tuesday they are willing to offer at least one hour free air time each week to the major presidential candidates this fall. They also said they prefer face-to-face debates or discussions rather than prepared speeches.

The networks assured the Senate Commerce Committee they don't have to be compelled to give Presidential candidates free time, as proposed in legislation suggested by Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the Democratic candidate for President.

To force the networks to provide free time "is the wrong way to go about doing the right thing," said David S. Adams, senior executive vice president of the National Broadcasting Co.

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting Co., said it would "be an especially inequitable irony for the Congress now to enact compulsory legislation requiring us to do that which we have fought so hard to do voluntarily."

He said voluntary efforts would be helped if Congress would protect the industry from demands for time by obscure candidates.

Stanton's and Adams' viewpoint got strong backing from Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is almost certain to be the Republican Presidential candidate next fall.

Former President Herbert Hoover and Thomas E. Dewey, twice the GOP candidate for president, also sent statements with the same view to the committee for use in its study of the question.

Morse Clobbered For 'Liberalism'

Portland, Ore. (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon said Tuesday night he knew he would get "clobbered" by Sen. John Kennedy in Maryland's Democratic Presidential primary.

"I entered that primary," Morse said in a campaign speech here, "in order to sew the seeds of constitutional liberalism in Maryland."

Morse and Kennedy are entered in Oregon's Presidential primary Friday.

A Vision Of Tomorrow

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

An hour's ride by airplane from Lincoln and you can find yourself in the midst of one of the greatest single collections of intelligence and imagination in this part of the country. You will find this among the more than 200 scientists working at the Midwest Research Institute at Kansas City, Mo. But don't think that you wouldn't find the place fascinating because you would.

If you have the idea that a scientist is generally a fellow somewhere on Cloud Nine with no practical application of his thoughts, then you have never met Dr. Buell W. Beadle, manager of Midwest's chemistry and chemical engineering division. Dr. Beadle is not one of those scientists who believe that his kind should be running the nation. In fact, he is firmly convinced that one of the most erroneous tags he has ever heard is the word "game" for politics. He is firmly convinced that it is a science all to itself which requires expert participation for any degree of success.

The Practical Scientist

But when he talks about the future of the world and the future of this great midwest, it makes you wonder if he would not be quite a fine politician. For if he were in public life, you would find the kind of visionary leadership for which the public hungers, even though the public does not always seem to know that it wants this or how to achieve it.

He is keenly aware, as are all the people at Midwest, of the fact that present estimates of the economic growth and stability of the midwest place it at a great disadvantage over many southern and western seaboard states. Fortunately, however, he is just as aware of the fact that there is something we can do about this and that we need not accept the reality of these projections for the future of this area.

Midwest is no ivory tower and Dr. Beadle frankly admits that his staff have dollar signs in their eyes. This isn't the only kind of science the nation needs—applied science—nor is it the only kind done at Midwest. That non-profit organization also has its own pure research program and there are other such programs in the nation. But applied scientific research is the door through which the midwest might well travel to economic growth and prosperity.

It is estimated that research conducted in the U.S. over a 25-year period from 1928 to 1953 may have contributed as much as $86 billion of the $365 billion gross national product for 1953. Without such research, the loss in gross national product for the same 25 years could have been as much as $800 billion. Figures on research imply a return on investment of 5,400 per cent for the 1928-53 period, or an annual return of 200 per cent.

Midwest has a number of success stories of its own which dramatically tell the possibilities of research. One of their research programs led to construction of a $39 million manufacturing plant and another has been the cause of a current $30 million plant construction in private industry. One small businessman had a $700 research program done for him at the institute and netted $50,000 on the findings in his first year of their application.

Midwest will tackle just about any job for any business or government. It is working on aspects of the missile program, on cancer research, on electronics and a host of other vital ideas. Most important for us, it is working on three projects for Nebraska—two of them the development of new products out of corn and one the development of new products from wheat.

Projects For Nebraska

Briefly, the Institute determines the economic feasibility of certain possible new uses for these agricultural products. It decides if a profit can be made from the new product which might be developed. If the economic answer is affirmative, the rest of the research team will proceed to find out how the product can be developed from wheat or corn. This program is being undertaken by funds provided the State Department of Agriculture in the last session of the Legislature. If a new product is developed, the state will have the patent rights and use of these rights will be offered to industries which would locate here.

Midwest makes no guarantees. It has some failures and some successes but it is openly hopeful about the agricultural research for Nebraska in such areas of possible use as adhesives, plastics, paper, etc. If every person could only know and understand this whole state program, he would be overwhelmed with enthusiasm and his vision of tomorrow would be a miracle of greatness.

New World Crisis

With the collapse of the summit conference, the dreams of the Western world for peace with the East have been shattered. As this episode of Russian deceit unfolds, it is clear that the recent spy plane incident was but a means to Communist ends but far from a cause of the summit results. It can still be interpreted as a U.S. blunder and the confusion and misstatements about it on the part of this nation leave some serious unanswered questions.

Had Premier Nikita Khrushchev wanted to find a means for lasting peace in his meeting with Western heads of government, he could have found a way around the spy plane incident. In fact, the incident could have made things very pleasant and advantageous indeed for the Soviet leader. He could have milked the incident for a tremendous propaganda advantage for the East and, perhaps, obtained concessions which he might otherwise have never gotten.

But he ignored the possibilities which this U.S. mistake gave him and attempted to use it as far too formidable a weapon. It simply is not in the nature of a club with which the U.S. and all the West can be beaten into total submission. Khrushchev is smart enough and informed enough about the U.S. to have known this but his rough and insulting treatment of President Eisenhower still persisted.

Developments can only lead one to conclude that Khrushchev has purposely scuttled the summit meeting, with the knowledge that that and the way in which it was done mean a new period of cold war aggression between East and West. The bitter disappointment in all of this is not that the summit failed to produce constructive results. This was considered a distinct possibility long before the spy plane came down in Russia. The new strain in relationships and the new dangers that exist stem from the fact that Russia deliberately destroyed any and all chances for a peaceful solution to today's world problems.

Two Who Will Be Missed

When the U.S. Senate convenes next year two venerable and valued members will not be present.

Senator Murray, D., Montana, having reached the age of 84, has decided to quit public life.

Senator O'Mahoney, D., Wyoming, also full of years, will not seek re-election. Physical disability has made a life of retirement advisable.

The senator suffered a stroke last June.

The country will miss those two western liberals for both have ranked high as senators are graded. Senator Murray's service dated from 1934 and his early years were marked by innumerable contributions toward reform and resources development. Perhaps his activity in behalf of the Full Employment Act during the Truman administration marked his greatest effectiveness in these later years. The act, while construed by many to be an act against unemployment, is actually a principle committing the United States to a permanent policy of unremitting resources development, both natural and human. This is a significant new goal, only obscured presently by the urgent demand for survival through defense, something that must take priority, for if security is not invincible then all future planning is speculative.

Senator O'Mahoney, while active in fields of legislation, will be better remembered by his constant fidelity to ethical behaviour on the part of the government and public figures. He was the bane of the shifty and the short cutters.

Success Only Part Of It

The Wall Street Journal published an admiring account recently about a young Texas tycoon who ascended from a teenage day laborer's roll to that of a multimillionaire in considerably less than 20 years.

In most respects it was a stirring story of American opportunity and a great success tale based on such well known fundamentals as diligence, enterprise and accurate judgment.

We take it the young man conducted himself on a high level of ethics, because in his formative years he aspired to the priesthood and is still wistful because circumstances made the calling unattainable.

By diligence and study the young man moved upward through day labor to a trade, from trade to contracting, from contracting to manufacturing and from manufacturing to a consolidator of an industrial empire over which he presides with more than due regard for fine products, employes and stockholders.

The curious part of the story has to do with taxes. By the time he was an early, pronounced success he made $190,000 one year. After distributing some bonuses to his helpers huge taxes reduced his net take home earnings to $30,000.

Now by his description he has become more sophisticated, though no violator of the law. Recently his year's income was approximately $150,000 out of which he realized something like $120,000 after taxes. It all adds up. His income from oil interests allows a 27½ per cent deduction as a depletion allowance. Individual tax rates run as high as 91 per cent. Corporation taxes, 52 per cent. Income from securities of governmental subdivisions is tax exempt and under proper circumstances a portion of the annual revenue from growth enterprises qualifies as capital gains. All of those special instances add up to a substantial discount against the tax rate.

The whole thing is an interesting commentary on the present day split personality required of the American success story. As an enterpriser in the character of old, the fellow couldn't make it. The more he made the more he didn't get, until he went to the further step of recreating himself into a legal personality accommodating his being to his genius.

Mao Swings Weight Against The West

PARIS—When Nikita Khrushchev pulled the stopper out of the summit conference, there was rejoicing in Peiping as the world's peace hopes went gurgling down the drain.

For some time, U.S. diplomatic reports from Moscow have indicated an increasing tendency by Mao Tse-tung to joggle Khrushchev's elbow. It began when Nikita flew from Washington last September almost direct to Peiping to report on the Camp David talks with President Eisenhower. He got a cool welcome. Not only did he fail to persuade his oriental partner to relax Red China's tension with the United States around Formosa, seat of the Chinese Nationalist government, but they didn't approve of relaxing tensions anywhere.

Indian diplomats in Peiping reported to American diplomats via New Delhi at the time that Khrushchev sincerely tried to carry out a commitment to Eisenhower by pacifying the Red Chinese. He failed.

Later, at the "summit" conference of communist nations in Moscow last February, China again kicked over the traces. The Chinese not only voted against Khrushchev's proposal to relax the cold war but expressed vigorous disapproval of it. All other members of the Soviet bloc lined up with Mr. K.

Since then the Chinese have become increasingly active. China is not only operating its own foreign aid program in competition with both the USA and the USSR, but has sent technicians all over the world. From secret intelligence reports and otherwise, here is the scorecard on Chinese penetration:

North Africa — De Gaulle reported to Eisenhower in Washington that Chinese technicians already had arrived in Algeria to aid Algerian rebels. They are being followed by arms and so-called volunteers.

Cuba — Testimony before the Senate Internal Security Committee reports that the Chinese are building air strips in the heart of Cuba, presumably for air bases.

Latin America — Diplomats report a heavy influx of Chinese workers along the West Coast of South America and a tremendous increase in Chinese influence there.

India — Negotiations between Premier Nehru and Chou En Lai over frontiers have failed.

East Germany — Here has occurred the most important penetration of all. When in east Berlin last week I learned of the closest ties between the two communist countries, with many East German engineers going to China to replace Russian experts and many Chinese working with East Berliners in their industrial development.

GOP Peace Plank Goes Up In Smoke

WASHINGTON—This capital was unprepared for the Paris crisis. It did not expect any great results from the summit meeting, but the explosive hostility of Soviet Premier Krushchev was not anticipated and neither was his implication that he would prefer to deal with the next president of the United States.

Some political observers here have been trying to suggest for some time that more attention should be given to the kind of president the voters will put in the White House next January and less to the scattered presidential primaries. Their hand has been strengthened, though not in the way they would have preferred.

Just how present developments will affect the various candidates themselves remains to be seen. It appears inevitable that more people will think of them in terms of the hard negotiations which the Russians seem to have decided they do not want to hold with Eisenhower.

Curbstone opinion generally suggested that among Democrats this would mean a revival of interest in Adlai Stevenson and a probable strengthening of Senate Democratic Leader Johnson's hand, the reason being their greater experience in administration.

Among Republicans Vice-President Nixon is not weakened as a popular individual, but he has surely been adversely affected as the champion of the outgoing administration. He was already preparing to break some domestic ties with the President, but at first glance it looks impossible for him to make any substantial deviation in foreign affairs, no matter how dolorous the picture may be.

Less nebulous is the speculation that the party in power in the White House must make some hasty revision of its campaign plans. It had plainly hoped and believed that it could get through the year with peace and prosperity as its slogan and a balanced budget as the most desirable possible national goal.

The concepts have outlasted several severe shocks, beginning with Sputnik I. The Paris news is only the latest of such blows but it is by far the heaviest, coming just before the nominating conventions.

☆ ☆ ☆

By chance Paris and its heavy freight of political implications coincided with renewed efforts by New York supporters of Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller to keep him in the presidential picture. This was really an accident. What is a fact is that Rockefeller has long felt the administration was far too optimitistic about this country's role in the cold war. He could conceivably feel that he is confronted now not only with an opportunity but a duty to wage a positive campaign for the presidency.

The vice-president was similarly unprepared. At a late hour last night he was preaching summit optimism in an extended TV appearance.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Five Years In Retrospect

PARIS — So complete is the disaster of this conference and so grim is the prospect ahead that it is idle to speculate on what the future may hold. But surely in this desperate hour it is time to look back on the five years that have passed since the United States last attended a meeting of heads of government.

In that time profound changes have taken place in the balance of power in the world and those changes have been reflected in the tense and uncertain atmosphere here.

The contrast is striking. At Geneva in August of 1955 the attitude of the West was relatively relaxed. Even though the Soviets had succeeded in breaking the American monopoly on the atomic bomb far more swiftly than the most pessimistic western estimates and although they had gone on to develop the hydrogen bomb, the West still looked at the East through spectacles colored with a rosy complacency.

In going to Geneva the United States took a patronizing view of the whole exercise. The late John Foster Dulles reluctantly yielded to the persuasion of the British conservatives who had a critical election in the spring. After all, we seemed to be saying, perhaps not too much harm will come out of it and we will go through the motions.

President Eisenhower was a world hero with scarcely a shadow of doubt on his reputation as a leader and a doer. Those who watched him arrive on that beautiful summer evening at the Geneva airport, the first American president in office to come to Europe since Woodrow Wilson, felt a thrill of hope.

But beginning in 1957 with Sputnik No. 1, the Soviets scored a series of startling firsts. Their achievements were written across the horizon of the world one after another. It was characteristic that they should have timed the sending up of a space ship for the opening of the conference.

☆ ☆ ☆

The American reply, and it may have a solid basis in fact, is that the scientific achievements of the American space program are more significant for the future than the spectacular stuntlike performances of the Soviet Union. But what is important is that this is not believed abroad and whether it is accepted at home is doubtful. The American story has not been put across.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Soviets have likewise successfully trumpeted to the world the figures on their economic growth and here they are on stronger ground. Whether the annual increase in production is eight per cent or six or even a little less, it surpasses the growth rate of the United States by a wide margin.

At the same time the Soviets have been extending and expanding their influence in every corner of the earth. The western leaders at Geneva five years ago chose to overlook the fact that the Kremlin had just engineered an arms deal with Egypt. There has evolved out of that deal a pervasive Soviet influence in Egypt, where the Russians are paying for the Aswan Dam, and in Iran and elsewhere in the Middle East.

In the newly emerging nations in Africa the Soviets are putting out far-reaching plans to provide technical assistance and development loans. Guinea, one of these new nations, seemed on the point of granting official recognition to East Germany, which is a major objective of Soviet diplomacy.

Eisenhower comes to this conference very nearly at the end of his authority. After the summit of 1955, he suffered his heart attack and for the following 18 months he and the American people were absorbed in the drama of his recovery and his decision to run for a second term. In less than two months the Democratic convention will open and the country will be absorbed in the choice of the President's successor. For all practical purposes that will be full stop for the Eisenhower administration.

Khrushchev's brutal refusal to permit the United States any "out" on the spy plane may be because he has come to the hard-boiled decision that nothing is to be gained from negotiating with Eisenhower. The degree of trust and confidence he may in fact have placed in the President personally—there is some reason to believe this was a fact—was shattered by the President's statement accepting responsibility for the U2 incident.

☆ ☆ ☆

The West came to this summit conference under duress, as it were; under the threat to Berlin. Far from being relaxed the western powers are tense and uncertain, awaiting with trepidation and even dread the next move by the Soviet premier. This is one measure of the change that five years have brought about. It is a sobering reflection that these changes could have taken place with, on the whole, so little awareness in the West.

Nixon Vote

Wayne, Neb.

If someone wishes to see a really significant trend in the primary election results, he ought to check the Nixon write-in votes.

Here in Wayne County, Nixon received 478 votes whereas Kennedy received 177. Well over 2½ to one. More amazingly, Nixon's were all write-ins. There was no contest in his race and many of his votes apparently were not counted because voters had written in his name but had not marked the "X". Further, he did no advertising whatever.

Kennedy, on the other hand, had his name printed on the ballot, was in a sharp national contest in which votes were solicited for him and other Democratic candidates, carried on an expensive advertising campaign, and made personal campaign visits to Nebraska, as did his relatives.

The significance of this for November is obvious.

There isn't any question that a solid victory for the revitalized Nebraska Republican party was scored during the recent primary election.

Two Sides

Lincoln, Neb.

In answer to "Disgusted Renter," I would like to say that I too sometimes get very disgusted. We are Air Force people and have four pre-schoolers. We have to have a place to live and we can't buy a home of our own. The Air Force people have contributed quite a lot to the progress of this town. On the other hand, the people of Lincoln have been really swell to most of us.

If we take the time and thought, we could understand why people do not want to rent to people with youngsters. Youngsters are going to mess things up more than an adult because they don't understand our adult world. They don't place the same value on things as adults do. It's up to these adults to reimburse the landlords for the damage their children do. For instance, would you take your most prized possession and lend it to someone with children, someone who doesn't care what her children do with it? How would you feel when it was returned, completely ruined?

I believe if the landlord would take the time to talk to renters' previous landlords and find out how these people treated his property and then judge for himself, there would be a better relationship between landlord and tenant. Also, the tenants would be extra careful to watch their children, knowing that if they ever move, any damages would make it harder to find another place.

I believe the answer to this problem is more consideration and understanding on both sides.

Patience

Lincoln, Neb.

In answer to the pious citizen who speaks of the marvelous patience of the Russians in the face of our "spy" flight and our bases which ring that country, I would like to suggest that if it were not for those bases and our own powerful defense, the citizen would long ago have been blown off the face of this earth by Russian missiles or shipped off to Siberia.

Yes, the Russians are patient. They can wait until our own defenses are undermined by their own spies—in this country and everywhere else — or by our own misguided citizens who think Russia has done nothing but shoot down one of our planes.

If we must have spies — and how else are we to know what is really going on behind the Iron Curtain? — far better that they be courageous young men who risk their lives flying over Russia than the kind the Russians use to spy on us, those who pose as loyal American citizens and systematically sell us out.

As anyone can realize if he reads Khrushchev's speeches, the Russians have never deviated from their goal of forcing communism upon us all, and they will use any method which will achieve that goal. If we are really perceptive, we will note that they accuse us most loudly of the things they are doing themselves.

Strong Defense Is Vital

. . . Russell Warns

Washington (AP)—The chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee declared Tuesday night collapse of the summit conferences makes it urgent that the United States look to its defenses.

"The cold war has been greatly intensified," Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) said. He cautioned that Soviet Premier Khrushchev's "erratic action might precipitate the horrors of a nuclear war."

"This country should make every effort to get its defense establishment in order and on the alert in order to repel and annihilate any aggressor," Russell said.

News that the 4-power talks had finally been killed came as no shock on Capitol Hill

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) called it a "great diplomatic disaster."

"It is futile to spend time now trying to assess the blame," Humphrey said "but we do need to find out what went wrong with the conduct of our foreign policy in order to prevent future catastrophe."

Calmness Urged

"But," Humphrey said, "it is not the end of the world. I urge the American people and the Russian people to calmness. There must be a cooling-off period, a careful and patient effort to restore normal relations and a fresh start toward easing of international tensions."

In a similar vein, Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala), a high-ranking member of the senate foreign relations committee, said:

"We've got to stand straight, firm and strong and see if we can't take the lead and try to find some way to ease tensions."

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), assistant Senate majority leader, advised "all we have to do is ride it out and keep our shirts on."

CAP Cadet Neal Appointed To AF Academy

Omaha (AP) — David Neal, a Civil Air Patrol cadet from the Lincoln CAP squadron, has been notified of his appointment to the United States Air Force Academy, Nebraska CAP Wing Headquarters announced Tuesday. Neal was nominated by Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb).

Neal is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Neal, Lincoln.

He was selected in March as the top cadet in Nebraska and awarded a month-long expense paid tour of Canada this summer. But since the cadet class at the Air Force Academy begins in June, Steve Parks of Omaha, an alternate, will make the Canadian trip. Parks is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. Parks, Omaha.

Nixon Suggests Rockefeller Stay In The GOP 'Race'

Auburn, N.Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller should not rule himself out as a potential presidential candidate, Vice President Nixon said.

Nixon told a news conference that he agreed with a statement by New York Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse that Rockefeller is one of the country's top leaders and should not rule himself out.

But, the vice president added, he was now convinced Rockefeller would not accept the vice presidential designation.

Navy Enlisted Man Makes First Solo Hop—By Mistake

. . . Calmly Talked Down By Another Pilot

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—A young navy enlisted man made his first solo hop—by mistake—Tuesday and then was calmly talked down to a landing by a veteran pilot in another plane.

Metalsmith 3C David L. Shrode was taxiing a T28 trainer to test its brakes.

Heading down the runway, Shrode said he lost directional control, applied more throttle to regain it—and was airborne.

The tower at the Memphis Naval Air Base tried to talk Shrode down, but failed.

Then George T. Smith, 28, Memphis, took off, flew alongside and told the frightened metalsmith what to do.

Shrode made a perfect landing, "the most beautiful I've ever seen in a T28," said Navy Cmdr. Jerry Novak.

Shrode has had about 4 hours of instruction on light planes, the last about 3 years ago. He never soloed.

AF Hospital Probe Asked In Nebraska

Washington (AP) — A House subcommittee investigation into Air Force plans for hospital facilities at two Nebraska bases has been asked by Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R-Wis).

Laird, senior Republican on the House Appropriations Subcommittee that considers military construction funds, wrote Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) about the situation at Offutt and Lincoln Air Force Bases. Weaver released the letter Tuesday.

"It seems to me that the Air Force cannot make up its mind as to whether a new hospital should be constructed at Lincoln AFB or at Offutt AFB," Laird wrote. "It appears that various individuals in the Air Force have been making contradcitory statements about a new hospital to serve the Nebraska area.

"For that reason, I am asking our investigative staff to check into this matter very thoroughly. I also hope to personally inspect the Lincoln and Offutt hospital requirements in the very near future.

Is 'Disappointed'

"I can assure you of my complete cooperation in this matter and I am indeed very disappointed over the conflicting reports which have been issued by various Air Force commands."

Weaver previously has criticized Air Force plans to tear down a hospital at Offut, near Omaha, and replace it with a new facility, possibly an underground installation.

He said plans also call for construction of a 25-bed dispensary at the Lincoln base instead of the 100-bed hospital that has been authorized. No funds have been appropriated for the Lincoln hospital.

Weaver said he understands the request regarding Lincoln will be included in the Air Force's military construction authorization requests for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1961. He made this comment on Laird's letter:

"This bears out my statement that the Air Force has been devious in this matter."

NU STUDENT IS STATE'S 1ST TYPHOID CASE

A University of Nebraska student has contracted a case of typhoid fever, the first reported in Nebraska in at least 1½ years, the State Health Department said Tuesday.

The student was apparently exposed to the disease on a trip through southern Nebraska and into Missouri, officials said. No other typhoid has been reported in Nebraska this year, and none was reported last year.

Broadway's Fall Shows Suspended

New York (AP) — Broadway producers have suspended operations on all fall productions because of Actors Equity contract demands, the league of New York theaters announced Tuesday.

A meeting of the league attended by about 125 producers and theater representatives voted the shutdown unanimously, according to the announcement by Burton L. Zorn, special counsel for the league.

The main issue in the 12 negotiation sessions with equity to date has been the union's demand for a pension system for aging actors.

Zorn said the producers and owners also voted unanimously to present a united front to equity, with the league doing all bargaining with the union.

Zorn said the "freeze" on production would affect about 20 plays planned for fall openings on Broadway.

Auditions will be suspended, he said, costume and scenery designing will come to a halt, and any negotiations with individual stars on contracts also will be stopped.

Zorn said the league has offered equity some contract improvements but has not changed its position on other issues, including pensions, higher wages and other money items.

Reds Assure West Nuclear Testing Ban Not Impossible

Paris (AP)—The Soviet Union sought privately to assure the West Tuesday night that a treaty banning nuclear weapon tests still can be arranged despite the collapse of the summit parley.

But the two major Western nuclear powers—the United States and Britain — were skeptical.

The Soviet view was conveyed by Andrei A. Gromyko to Britain's Selwyn Lloyd, who had a 75-minute meeting devoted mainly to a vain last-ditch bid to save the Big 4 conference.

Miss Chance

Arguing the case for getting the summit talks going, Lloyd said it was sad to think that the powers were missing the chance to make progress toward the projected treaty. It had been planned for President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Khrushchev to meet separately on the subject.

They were to have examined the few remaining issues blocking a final agreement on the 18-month negotiations.

Gromyko's replay, according to British officials, went something like this:

"We'll see about that. The negotiations in Geneva can go on. There's no reason why they shouldn't progress."

Under Illusion

If the Russian really meant what he said he clearly was under an illusion. American and British hopes for agreement have sagged. One of their preoccupations was to sign the pact soon. Other powers including Red China are reported on the nuclear threshhold.

Over and above these factors is the attitude of the U.S. Congress. They might hardly be likely to approve a treaty, and an attendant gentleman's agreement, in the light of the Paris fiasco.

Emergency Shop Shows Activity Hike

The Lancaster County Community Emergency Shop reports its activities are increasing.

The shop processes donated clothing and furniture, and distributes it free to indigents.

Board of directors reported at the annual meeting that the shop:

—served 78 families and 248 individuals this year, compared to 51 and 212 last year.

—gave 1,826 garments in April of this year, compared to 1,362 in April of 1959.

—gave 1,235 pieces of furniture, compared to 919 a year ago.

All officers were re-elected. They are Mrs. Sidney Anderson, president; Francis Minard, vice president; Miss Mary Freeman, secretary, and Mrs. Allen Korsmeyer, treasurer.

Mrs. Luella Hurley was renamed shop director, and Mrs. Eva Hagemeier, assistant.

Salt-Wahoo Sets Meet For May 25

Salt-Wahoo Watershed District will hold its organizational meeting May 25 in Lincoln.

The session is slated for 9:30 a.m., at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Twenty directors of the district were elected along with the primary election vote approving formation of the district a week ago.

The board is composed of 10 directors from Lincoln, 7 from Lancaster and Saline Counties, and one each from Butler, Seward and Cass Counties.

Seven prospective directors from Saunders County were not elected due to a vote against formation of the district in that county.

Chief order of business at the May 25 meeting will be election of officers, according to Robert Crosby, secretary of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed Assn.

Western Electric Engineers Reject Union In Election

Washington (UPI) — Western Electric Co. engineers have rejected union representation in a worldwide referendum, the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) announced.

The vote was 3,970 to 2,603 against selection of the Council of Western Electric Professional Employes-national, an affiliate of the Independent Engineers and Scientists of America, as bargaining agent.

Nearly all of the 6,750 eligible engineers voted in the largest election ever conducted among professional employes by the NLRB. The votes of 108 were challenged and 12 ballots were voided.

Western electric engineers in Omaha and Lincoln voted by mail. No area figures were tabulated.

Little 4 Able To Remain Friendly

Vaduz, Liechtenstein (UPI)—The host for last year's "Little 4" summit meeting Tuesday deplored the failure of the Big 4 conference but admitted that Liechtenstein, Monaco, San Marino and Andorra had had their troubles with postage stamp issuance and tourism problems.

Baron Eduard Von Falz-Fein said, however, "we will not be detracted by the Paris failure from continuing our highly successful little summit meetings."

He said the Little 4 were very sorry that the larger nations did not follow their example of "friendly, sensible discussion of the issues on hand."

Cows Pull Nik From Talks Site

Paris —Nikita S. Khrushchev spurned the summit conference Tuesday for a cow barn meeting with French peasants in the countryside.

He repeated to the peasant audience that he will not meet President Eisenhower in a summit conference until the American leader apologizes for the spy plane.

In probably the wildest ride ever made by a Soviet Premier, or any other premier, Khrushchev drove out from the high walled Soviet embassy, rocketed behind a motorcycle escort against traffic down a one-way street and was away to the country.

Cut Limb

Well out in the country the whole convoy came to a grinding halt. A tree had been felled across the road. Khrushchev climbed out, shook hands with black moustached Jean Cardozo and took the woodsman's axe.

With about a dozen good strokes Khrushchev cut off a 3-inch limb with relative neatness. It astonished the correspondents, most of whom didn't know that an experienced woodsman would have slicked it off in 3 strokes.

He stopped the convoy at a little cafe outside Sezanne. There he chatted with Vera Bidault, a Russian woman who had been a Nazi prisoner, married a Frenchman and settled down to a comfortable life running the cafe.

Visited Farm

A bit farther on he got out of the car and walked into a farm yard, his destination. Malinovsky had stayed there in World War I and wanted to meet a Frenchman who had looked after him while he fought on the Western front. He found the farmer he remembered, Rene Pignard.

As if suddenly aware that world-shaking business was awaiting his presence in Paris, Khrushchev finished the tour of the farm, got into his car and began a fast trip back to Paris.

University Asks To Retain Farm Gained By Will

The University of Nebraska said in a brief filed in the Nebraska Supreme Court Tuesday that it should be allowed to keep the Rogers Memorial Farm, willed to it in 1945.

The brief was filed in an appeal from Lancaster County District Court by 4 heirs of Mrs. Cora E. Rogers, the person who gave the land to the University.

The heirs, Oliver Erskine, Maude Rebecca Olds Saunders, Edith Raymond Olds and Marian Olds Houghton, said the land should be returned to them because the university has not lived up to the terms of the will.

They named also a group of family relations as defendants along with the board of regents of the university.

The district court dismissed the petition, and the 4 heirs appealed.

Attorneys for the university said the record shows that the terms of the will have been met.

Wyuka Halts Segregation In Burials

Wyuka Cemetery trustees have halted segregation burial at the public cemetery.

Trustees recorded a statement to that effect in the minutes of their last meeting.

Such action had been urged following an inquiry from Action Co-Ordinating, Team (ACT), a local group advocating equal rights.

ACT informed the board that it understood Negroes could purchase lots only in Section 29 of the cemetery.

B. R. Dunn, trustee secretary, said the section was made exclusive for Negroes more than 30 years ago. "There has been segregation in the past," he noted, "but as of the last meeting there will be none."

No whites are presently buried in Section 29, and Negroes seldom ask to buy elsewhere, Dunn said.

WOW Watchers To Leave Posts

William Grubbs, Nebraska insurance director, said Tuesday he hopes to have the two state examiners out of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society offices in Omaha by the end of this week.

The examiners were placed in the home office of the fraternal society March 4 after reports it might move out of Nebraska. The plans to move have since been reported dropped.

Grubbs said the society is following his recommendations on operations of the office, compliance of which was once set out as a condition for renewal of the society's license May 1.

The society has demonstrated an attitude of "complete cooperation," Grubbs said.

"I have full confidence this organization will once again assume its leadersip among fraternal insurance societies of America," Grubbs said.

Early Census Figures Show Rise In Larger Nebraska Towns

Preliminary census figures released from the district census offices throughout the state indicate the majority of the larger Nebraska towns have increased in population during the past decade.

Fremont's unofficial 1960 population is 19,125, an increase of 29.6% over the 14,762 total in 1950. It is the city's largest 10-year increase since 1900, Mrs. Ruby Dunn, area supervisor, reported.

Saunders County has gained 311 inhabitants during the last decade, according to figures received from Mrs. Dunn.

Of the county's 15 towns, 8 showed population gains and 7 showed losses. The total county population is 17,234, compared with 16,923 in 1950.

Wahoo and Ashland, the two largest towns in Saunders County, showed gains. Wahoo rose from 3,128 to 3,485, and Ashland showed an increase from 1,713 to 1,984.

Population figures for other towns in the county are:

	1950	1960
Colon	127	110
Weston	345	340
Prague	397	372
Memphis	92	77
Leshara	61	96
Mead	388	429
Malmo	151	137
Morse Bluff	142	118
Cedar Bluffs	505	592
Valparaiso	392	395
Ceresco	374	428
Yutan	287	331
Ithaca	140	126

Three counties in the district showed decreases since 1950, according to unofficial figures.

Colfax went from 10,010 in 1950 to 9,336 in 1960; Burt from 11,622 to 10,157, and Thurston from 8,563 to 7,021.

Grand Island Up

As earlier reported, Grand Island showed an increase of some 3,000 residents with the 1960 total showing 25,691, according to O. E. Cunningham, supervisor for that district.

He said that Kearney, Lexington, Broken Bow, Ord, O'Neill, Valentine, Mullen and St. Paul also showed increases. The rural areas in the northern part of the state were those that suffered losses, he noted.

Preliminary census figures announced by the district census office in Scottsbluff indicate that western Nebraska would have recorded a serious loss of population had it not been for the oil and gas boom in the southern panhandle.

Major growth was scored by the Kimball and Sidney areas. All others seem to have had difficulty maintaining 1950 figures.

Kimball doubled its size from approximately 2,000 in 1950 to 4,166. Sidney made a 61% gain in the 10 years, going from 4,912 to 7,922.

Scottsbluff went to 14,000 but the county lost a total of 450 persons. Alliance's tentative figure is 7,777 compared to 7,891 in 1950. Box Butte County reports 11,557, down from 12,500 10 years ago.

Other town figures in the area are:

	1950	1960
Crawford	1,824	1,595
Hay Springs	1,091	822
Gordon	2,058	2,210

Politics 'Not Office Seekers' Province Alone, Says Woman

"Politics are not only the politician's business; they are everybody's business. We must awaken t^ our responsibilities as citizens."

This statement was made by Mrs. Michael Boosalis, Lincoln councilwoman, at the Tuesday meeting of the Lincoln United Church Women at the new Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, 60th and A Streets.

In discussing "Women's Responsibility in Government," Mrs. Boosalis stated, "Our citizenship begins with the duty to pay taxes and to vote, but it doesn't end there."

She said women must set examples for their families because it is from the family that future citizens take their voting habits, and many times, party affiliation.

Too often people have the misconception that one vote makes little difference. "One vote can make a lot of difference," Mrs. Boosalis pointed out; "every vote counts and every trip to the pools is important."

"Be informed about issues and candidates; an uniformed voter is just as bad as one who never goes to the polls," she said.

Lincoln Sowers See Gains In Central Nebraska Swing

Aurora — The Lincoln Sowers Club, on a one-day goodwill tour through central Nebraska Tuesday, made a dinner-meeting in Aurora the final stop on their itinerary.

Guest speaker for the Sowers was Ray Ramsey, and the program was opened by Aurora Chamber of Commerce President Harold Wochner.

Maurice Sapp, club secretary, reported new improvements and good crop conditions in all the towns visited on the goodwill tour.

A group of 300 St. Paul residents welcomed The Sowers Club earlier Tuesday afternoon when Mayor George Zlomke told club members of the completion of a $50,000 water tower in the town. A $40,000 irrigation project, involving the construction of Sherman Dam, northwest of St. Paul, is being headquartered in their city, Zlomke added.

Sowers learned in Albion that centennial plans for a 1971 celebration are under way. Mayor Raymond Medlin reported that a 10-year improvement program, to be begun in 1961, will lead up to the Albion Centennial.

Secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, Robert Palmer, opened the noon meeting and luncheon there, and Stan Pertzer represented the Sowers.

Central City Mayor, Leslie Lindahl, announced completion of 2 alfalfa mills, and the dedication of the 25-bed Lutzenberg Memorial County Hospital. He added that the Merrick County Industrial and Agricultural Corp. has a new contract authorizing the growth of 100 acres of amylose corn, to be processed for plastic uses.

An estimated 400 Osceollans greeted Sowers, while Mayor Fred Bond told the group of plans for a $100,000 addition to the county hospital there.

In Rising City, the Sowers' first stop Tuesday morning, Mayor E. O. Treadway told the group of completion of a 700,000 bushel capacity elevator.

Other towns which hosted Sower members included Shelly, where construction of a new school is planned for completion in 1961, and Ord, where plans are being made to establish a United Loup Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Corn Work 'About On Schedule'

3% Sorghum, Some Soybeans Planted

Nebraska farmers made better-than-average progress with field work last week and corn planting in the state is "about on schedule," government crop observers reported Tuesday.

By the week end, around 20% of corn acreage had been planted. That's close to the usual progress by May 14, according to the weekly crop report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

About 3% of the sorghum acreage and a few fields of soybeans had been planted. But major activity centered on preparation of ground for the late planted row crops. Cold, wet soil conditions hindered progress in some northern sections.

Nebraska News

Winter wheat, meanwhile, made good progress in western districts, the report said. Wheat conditions vary considerably in eastern counties, however. Some more advanced fields made good growth, but thin stands were getting weedy and some plowing up of poor wheat continued.

Other crop report observations:

Spring grains made fair to good progress in southern districts. But parts of central and northeast Nebraska were experiencing crusted and packed soil conditions in oats and spring barley fields as a result of heavy rainfall in early May.

Hay Prospects Dim

Pastures and hay crops continue to be late in development. Despite above normal moisture supplies, hay yield prospects are dimmed by the late start and slow early growth of grasses and legumes.

Cattle and calves continue to regain condition with new green feed becoming more abundant.

Favorable temperatures and drying weather boosted feed lot gains, and milk production rates were running well above average.

Rainfall during the past week throughout Nebraska included:

	East
Grand Island	.40	Norfolk	.75
Lincoln	.66	Omaha	.67
	Central
Valentine	.26
	West
Chadron	.41	Scottsbluff	.27
Imperial	.04	Sidney	.15

Accumulated precipitation this growing season by districts from April 1 as compared to longtime averages includes:

Northwest—2.77 inches (1960); 3.05 inches.
North Central—4.66; 3.29.
Northeast—5.12; 3:58.
Central—5.79; 3.30.
East Central—4.18; 3.84.
Southwest—2.60; 3.24.
South Central—4.60; 3.53.
Southwest—3.78; 4.20.

Marsh To Head Nebraska UCT

Grand Island — R. Wayne Marsh of Grand Island is the new grand counselor of the United Commercial Travelers.

Floyd C. Sneller of Hastings was named grand junior counselor; A. T. Holcomb, Lincoln, grand conductor; Harlan C. Winslow, Scottsbluff, grand page; and Chester Ewing, Holdrege, grand sentinel.

McCook was selected as the convention city for 1961 and Lincoln for 1962.

Band Keys Given To Five At NU

Five University of Nebraska seniors received "Band Key Awards" for outstanding service and musicianship as members of the University Band, Prof. Donald Lentz, director, announced.

The Key winners are: Roy Cook of Lincoln; Gretchen Blum of Lincoln; Joyce Johnston of Ralston; Roger Schindler of Lincoln; and Frank Tirro of Omaha.

Also, new officers of Band and Gamma Lambda, professional band society, were announced by Professor Lentz.

Officers of the Band are: Jack Nyquist, Axtell, president; David Sell, Grand Island, vice president; Ken Barjenbruch, Leigh, secretary-treasurer; Bill Buckendorf, Lincoln, publicity; Rod Schmidt, Cook, properties; and Kay Chaberlain, Rushville, ladies' sponsor.

Officers of Gamma Lambda are: Roger Schindler, Lincoln, president; Tom Peck, Rushville, vice president; Roy Cook, Lincoln, treasurer; and Bill Buckendorf, Lincoln, secretary.

HONOREE ABSENT: SO WHAT?

The absence of President Vance D. Rogers didn't stop members of the Nebraska Wesleyan University faculty from celebrating their prexy's birthday.

While the Wesleyan president was spending the day in Omaha on a business trip, members of the faculty devoted a portion of their regular faculty meeting to honoring the president "in absentia" with coffee and birthday cakes.

Norfolk Investment Club Incorporates

Articles of incorporation were filed with the Nebraska secretary of state's office Tuesday by the 58-10 club of Norfolk, an investment club.

Incorporators were 24 residents of Norfolk. J. P. Daniel of Norfolk was listed as resident agent. The firm was authorized to issue $12,692.50 in capital stock.

Opening lead — queen of spades.

Timing is an important element of good dummy play. The declarer, whenever he is playing a suit contract, may be faced with the problem of whether or not to draw trumps, whether or not to take certain finesses, whether to establish high card tricks or long suits, and so on.

Some or all of these things may have to be done, but the order in which they take place can be of prime importance. The timing of such plays often spells the difference between the success and failure of a contract.

South was in four hearts and got a spade lead. He won with the ace and immediately attacked trumps. He led the jack and finessed, losing to the queen. Back came a spade and South won wit the ace. Eventually, he lost four tricks—a spade, two hearts, and a diamond—and went down one.

He should have made the contract. While the idea of clearing up the trump situation was good, it was put into effect prematurely. Declarer should not have attacked hearts at once. By doing so, he virtually pinned all his hopes of making the contract on limiting himself to one trump loser.

The trump situation could wait. South could afford to lose two heart tricks and still make the hand, provided he escaped the loss of a spade.

The spade loser could have been avoided by leading the king of diamonds at trick two. As soon as the defense took its ace, dummy would provide a place on which declarer's spade loser could be discarded.

Even if the king of diamonds was refused by East, a diamond continuation would establish dummy's third diamond as a trick.a The jack of clubs, in such case, would serve as the entry to obtain the discard.

In most suit contracts, declarer plays trumps at once. But where there is more urgent work to do, as in this hand, declarer delays trump extraction until the time is more propitious.

First things come first.

ASK—
Dorothy Draper

The American College Dictionary gives for its first definition of "white" — "of the color of pure snow." And yet it always amazes me what many people consider WHITE. They will have cream, an almost-beige, a pale-pale gray and think they are using white. In this column when we say "white" we mean the whitest-white every single time.

Some women seem scared of using a sharp accent of pure white. And yet nothing can spark up a room like white accessories. A white ironstone (usually the whitest white to be found) tureen filled with flowers looks charming with modern, traditional, Oriental or Spanish furniture. White flowers, white candles (and do light them for an inexpensive bit of enchantment) white rugs, white picture frames on a dark wall, white pitchers filled with tall bunches of green leaves, white ash trays, pieces of white sculpture . . . all add interest and individuality to a room. So look around you, wouldn't that white touch help your rooms?

Mrs. Y. R. asks:

I love chandeliers but my husband says no one uses them any more. What do you say?

Dear Mrs. Y. R.:

I say if you want a chandelier, have one! As a matter of fact, chandeliers are becoming quite popular. Just the other day I saw a new version in black iron in a fascinating curlicue design with romantic Spanish overtones. Fine foil for the new rage for country furniture. Also saw a new model designed with the out-and-out-modern in mind. Stark and simple, this had rods that could be twisted into shapes to suit your space — a far cry from the prism drops one usually associates with chandeliers, isn't it?

Mrs. H. M. H. asks:

Please answer if a kitchen with 3 doors and 3 windows should have painted walls and woodwork alike. We never have, but have been told it would seem so much larger if the whole thing was painted one color. The floor is gray mottled tile and gray tile is on the sink wall.

Dear Mrs. H. M. H.:

Your "adviser" is right. Painting walls and woodwork all one color will tend to make your kitchen look larger. Either a luscious peony pink or a fresh daffodil yellow would be pretty with your gray tile.

Mrs. B. L. W. asks:

Is it true that Victorian things are becoming popular again?

Dear Mrs. B. L. W.:

Definitely. Just look at the rattan reproductions creeping into the room settings in the stores. The plant stands, tables, chairs and settees can be quite refreshingly amusing when used with discretion.

Dear Abby--
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband holds a position of trust that he is unworthy of. He has been stealing from the company. I couldn't believe it until I was faced with the proof.

I discussed it with him and he promised to stop. But his promises mean nothing because I have proof that he has been at it again. The more he gets away with, the more he wants.

We have three children, Abby, and if he is caught he will lose his job and he might even be sent to prison. I love him and want to help him, but I can't go on living with a thief and taking a chance on his bringing disgrace to me and the children. If you can't help me, Abby, please tell me who can. I am sick at heart.

MOTHER OF THREE

DEAR MOTHER: If you have never asked a clergyman for help — ask him now. If you don't belong to a church, go to one. I doubt if any clergyman would refuse to help you. Beyond that, your husband might need a doctor. Stick with him and give him the strength, support and incentive to overcome his weakness. It can be done.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My secret ambition has always been to earn a College diploma. I started to college once, but stayed only four months because my father took sick and I had to return home to get a job and take care of the family. I am 38, Abby. If I take courses three evenings a week, I figure it will take me eight years to earn the credits required to graduate. I wonder if it's sensible. If I go, in eight years I will be 46.

DIPLOMA

DEAR WANTS: And how old will you be in eight years if you DON'T go?

DEAR ABBY: After going steady with Russ for three years I married him. I was only 18 at the time. We've been married for five miserable years and have two children. I realize now that I was too young to know my own mind when I married. Now I finally met the man I should have married.

His name is Frank and, Abby, we were meant for each other. He's married, too, and his situation is exactly like mine. He married too young and all he and his wife do is fight. He says he is happy only when he is with me. Frank and I have been seeing each other on the sly. Is it wrong to continue these meetings? Nobody knows and nobody is hurt. We are very much in love and suffer terribly when we are apart. Why should we suffer the rest of our lives just because we didn't meet until after we were married?

DYING BY INCHES

DEAR DYING: You married Russ for better or for worse. If you spent as much time and energy trying to make Russ happy as you apparently do making Frank happy, things would be much better at home. Knock off business before things get worse. If you think you are "suffering" now — wait until your luck runs out.

Square Dance Activities

A meeting of the Lincoln Council of Folk and Square Dance Clubs will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Lincoln YWCA. Preceding the council meeting, a meeting of the executive board will be held at 7 o'clock.

On Friday evening, the Lincoln Callers Association will entertain at a square dance open to the public. Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock at the Antelope Park pavilion.

The News Around Town

—More news about these and those and this and that this morning—First we have a postscript to add to yesterday's news of Mrs. Andrew Bunten, Jr. who, with her two children, is a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth DuTeau.

The P.S. has to do with a coffee on Friday morning when Mrs. Bunten's cousin, Mrs. Gates Minnick, compliments the visitor when she entertains at her home.

* * *

—Another postscript involving Tuesday has to do with the Tokyo wedding of Miss Jean Dibble and Bruce Brugmann (pictured in Tuesday's Star) which almost didn't take place. A matter of minutes before the ceremony Mr. Brugmann and his best man, both newspaper men, were ordered to return immediately to Korea to do the story on the demonstrations against Syngmann Rhee. Mr. Brugmann somehow talked his way out of a pre-ceremony departure, but his best man wasn't so lucky. He went to Korea.

* * *

—The many friends of Mrs. H. A. Murray will be happy to know that she has returned from Portland, Ore. where she has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. John C. Taylor since Christmas. Mrs. Murray will spend the summer with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. John C. Thompson, and in the autumn plans to return to Oregon where she will reside.

* * *

—There is new from Clifton, Ariz., this morning and the communique announces the arrival of Louis Joseph LaMaster on Saturday, April 30. The young man is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh LaMaster of Clifton, and his mother is the former Louise Putney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Putney of Lincoln. Three more vitally interested members of the family are the baby's two brothers, Freddy and Hugh, III—and his sister, Cindy.

—Learned that Miss Nancy Morgan was the incentive for a pre-nuptial courtesy last Thursday evening when her aunts, Mrs. James Mahoney and Mrs. R. T. Cokes, were co-hostesses at a family affair held at the home of Mrs. Mahoney. Following an informal dessert supper, a miscellaneous shower was presented to the honoree, who will become the bride of Alan Haugner on June 4.

Also in courtesy to Miss Morgan was the linen shower for which Mrs. Quentin Moore was hostess at her home on Sunday afternoon. The guest list included the feminine members of the bridal party.

PTA Units Conclude Season

The final meeting of the year for DAWES PTA was held Tuesday evening. The program honored sixth grade students, and their mothers served as hostesses for the social hour.

New officers were installed at the meeting.

The members of NORWOOD PARK PTA held a family picnic Tuesday evening at Bethany Park. A program of games was conducted for the children by Mrs. James Orr, and following the supper, new officers were installed.

The annual May breakfast of RILEY PTA was held Tuesday morning at the school. New officers were installed by Mrs. William Jones, past president, and a program was presented by physical education pupils.

Especially honored were mothers of sixth graders, and guests at the breakfast were mothers of Culler and Brownell Child Center pupils who will enter Riley School in the fall.

A program by the Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds, Brownies and Girl Scouts was presented Tuesday morning when HARTLEY PTA held its annual May breakfast at the school.

New officers were installed, and guests at the meeting were faculty members whose classrooms were conducted by PTA volunteers.

The Tuesday evening program of CALVERT PTA turned the spotlight on summer activities for children. The youth groups participated in the program, and speakers were Mrs. Levi Ruybalid, librarian, who discussed the summer reading program, and J. Bernard Dresselhaus, who talked on the Little Chief baseball program.

Mrs. Harold Thompson of the PTA city council installed the new officers, and mothers of kindergarten pupils were hostesses for the coffee hour.

Patriarchs Name New Officers

When the members of Patriarchs held their dinner meeting at the Lincoln Country Club on Tuesday evening one of the special features was the election of new officers for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Woods, Jr., now in Europe, were named to the presidency, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Wilson will serve as vice-presidents. Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Sidles will have the office of secretary-treasurer.

In the picture are (from the left): Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Browne; Mrs. Frank C. Sidles, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. W. H. Ferguson, Mrs. Olive Watson, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Wilson, vice-presidents.

SUBURBIA

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Understand that on Saturday evening, May 21, Lt. and Mrs. Harold Cleaver will be host and hostess to 10 neighborhood couples at an informal get-together at their home.

Included in the guest list for the evening will be Capt. and Mrs. William Davern, Capt. and Mrs. Richard Westermann, Lt. and Mrs. Lloyd Moir, Lt. and Mrs. James Keating, Lt. and Mrs. Fred Salmon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Bias, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Dohman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Epp and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Savidge.

We find a number of newcomers have appeared on the suburban scene of late, and among them are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Timm who moved into their home at 2750 Stockwell a week ago today.

The Timms who have been Lincoln residents for 20 years, had as their former address 717 So. 40th.

And a welcome to A.1C and Mrs. Herbert B. Boland Jr., who settled in their new home at 4038 Dunn the first of May. The Boland couple has a two year-old daughter, Debbie.

Mr. and Mrs. Boland came to Lincoln late in 1958 following a tour of duty in England.

INDIAN VILLAGE

Learned that Miss Karen Walker and her fiance, James Anderson, will be honored on Friday evening, June 3, at a pre-nuptial dinner for which the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. Maxine Anderson, will be hostess at her home. Members of the immediate families have been invited for the affair.

Miss Walker and Mr. Anderson plan to be married on Saturday, June 4, in a 3 o'clock ceremony solemnized at Southminster Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Back to the subject of new residents once again and we find that making their home at 2900 So. 14th are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Poorman and their 16 month-old son, Kenneth, Jr. The family moved to Indian Village last month.

Representing LINCOLN TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Clubs at the national convention of the organization to be held at Detroit, June 18 to 21, will be Mrs. Tilly Harrington and Mrs. Orville Hewitt, who will join a group of 15 delegates from Nebraska for the trip.

Mrs. Harrington is a member of the Tuff On Pounds Club, and Mrs. Hewitt is a member of Goal Seekers Club.

Mrs. Steve Finn served as chairman for the recent bridge benefit sponsored by DELTA DELTA DELTA sorority for its annual scholarship fund.

More than 80 guests attended the dessert luncheon and card party at the chapter house, and other committee members included Mrs. James L. Thorson, Mrs. Kenneth L. Popp, Mrs. Richard Woodcock, Mrs. R. W. Hamilton and Mrs. Paul Hyland.

The members of Lambda Chapter, BETA SIGMA PHI, entertained their mothers recently at a mother-daughter dinner at the Kopper Kettle. Chapter achievement awards were presented to Mrs. William Bookwalter, Mrs. Melvin Dudley and Mrs. Jack Rohrbaugh, and new officers of the chapter were installed.

The members of the HAVELOCK KEY CLUB installed the following new officers at its meeting on Monday evening: leader, Mrs. Dan Dormer; co-leader, Mrs. Chester Weber; recorder, Mrs. Fred Nielson; secretary, Mrs. Newell Robison; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph White: and reporter, Mrs. Walter Marshall.

Mrs. Ray Boleshka, outgoing leader, was honored by the group recently at a surprise party held at the home of Mrs. Nielson. During the evening, Mrs. Boleshka was presented a gift.

The JOLLY THURSDAY HOMEMAKERS met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Nolan Waggoner for a 1 o'clock covered dish luncheon. Guests of the club were Mrs. Verne Allen and Mrs. Raymond Plouzek.

A program, "Outdoor Nebraska", was given by Mrs. Charles Svara, and a card and handkerchief shower was presented to Mrs. Charles Skinner who will leave Lincoln soon to make her home in California.

A program, "Vacation In Nebraska", was presented by Mrs. John Morford at a recent meeting of the NORTHEAST NABORS EXTENSION Club, held at the home of Mrs. Vernon Cheuvront.

Army Slates Arctic Attack

Camp Tuto, Greenland (UPI) — The Army has a Polar research team poised on Greenland's vast ice cap ready to take two big steps toward conquering the Arctic.

On Thursday, a 56-man task force under Capt. Harold Munsel, of Goff, Kans., leaves on a 75-day 2,000-mile trek across the cap. Among other things it will blaze a trail across the ice and test Army communications equipment under Polar conditions.

In July, the first packaged nuclear power reactor to be put to military use outside the United States will arrive for installation in a tunnel at Camp Century, the Army's "buried" base 138 miles out on the cap. Polar experts are now readying its home.

'Lead Dog'

The trek across the ice cap, dubbed project "Lead Dog" will be the Army transportation corps' last project in Greenland after 8 years of Polar activity there.

But Camp Century is just a beginning. Seventeen scientists, plus supporting military personnel, will winter under the snow this year in a complex of covered trenches.

Col. John H. Kerkering, of Quincy, Ill., is rushing preparations here at Camp Tuto, at the edge of the ice cap. Kerkering, a West Point graduate, commands the Polar research and development force.

Readied

Kerkering and Munsel led a group of reporters on an inspection of the "Lead Dog" equipment, parked for takeoff on the ice cap 3 miles above Camp Tuto.

Wind whipped driving snow around the tractored Weasels and shelter Wanigans which make up the 12 vehicle train. The outside temperature hung around a not-uncomfortable 20-above zero—enough to require hooded parkas and boots for tenderfoot visitors.

Inside the box car-like Wanigans, there was shirt-sleeve comfort.

With radar, "Lead Dog" will be able to navigate even in a "white-out" — the Arctic phenomenon when snow and sky blend together in an icy mist that blocks out any landmarks.

Welfare Aid Trend Stays On Increase

The trend toward higher benefits to welfare cases continued through April, due partly to fewer cases than at the same time last year, and partly to increased obligations in state, federal and county funds.

The Nebraska Public Welfare Division reported Tuesday that 15,065 old-age assistance cases received benefits worth $1,098,520 for an average of $72.92 each during April. In April of last year, 15,787 cases shared $1,112,180 for an average cost of $69.32.

The benefits included direct payments in state and federal funds averaging $47.62, down from $48.03 in April of last year, plus medical and hospital expenses, paid with state, federal and county money, which have increased over last year.

It was a similar picture, with variations, for recipients of other state aid programs.

The number of recipients, total obligations in state, federal and county funds, and average cost per case in April were as follows (last year's figures in parenthesis):

Aid to Dependent Children (including adults in the same families): 10,876 (10,676), $330,514 ($305,954), $30.39 ($28.66).

Aid to the Blind: 859 (937), $76,669 ($78,965), $89.25 ($84.27).

Aid to the Disabled: 1,790 (1,544), $136,735 ($115,677), $76.39 ($74.92).

Banks Selected

Peru — Steve Banks of Stella has been elected president of the Peru State Teachers College chapter of Alpha Mu Omega, honorary national fraternity in mathematics. Keith Hawxby of Nemaha was named vice president and Ellen Hunzeker of Humboldt, secretary-treasurer.

An Exclusive Club

Nairobi, Kenya (AP)—Kenyans of the European, Indian, African and Goan (Portuguese Indian) communities who are graduates of 28 U.S. universities have formed the American Universities Club here. Members are in business, diplomacy, missionary work, nuclear physics, medicine, agriculture education and similar pursuits.

Welfare Association Elects

New officers of Chapter V of the Nebraska Welfare Assn. are (seated, left to right) Mrs. Edwin Katskee, secretary; Mrs. Luther Een, president; Miss Elsie Fitzgerald, treasurer; (standing) Glen Richards, second vice president, and Ralph Garner, first vice president. The group heard a report from Dr. John A. Brown, Frank Woods, Mrs. Mary Archerd, Luther Een and L. E. Henderson on the Governor's Committee on the White House Conference on Aging. (Staff Photo)

County Equalization Board To Hear Complaints Monday

The County Board of Equalization will start hearing valuation complaints next Monday, County Board Chairman Rolin Bailey said Tuesday.

Bailey, who also chairmans the equalization board, said he expects it will take most of next week to hear the complaints on personal property and real estate valuations.

Scheduling of the order in which complaints will be heard has not been completed, Bailey said.

Deadline for filing valuation complaints was May 10 and the board must act on them by May 30.

Rocky 'Doesn't' Hold A Chance

Republican State Chairman Charles Thone of Lincoln said Tuesday he doesn't think New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller "has even a remote chance for the (Republican presidential) nomination."

Thone made the statement in reply to a United Press International poll of GOP state chairmen.

The Nebraska chairman noted, however, that Rockefeller should not be ruled out of consideration for the presidency.

Vice President Richard Nixon, Thone said, has "tremendous grass roots support in this area," support which "unquestionagly crosses party lines."

Recent events at the ill-fated summit conference in Paris are not likely to weaken Nixon's position and enhance Rockefeller's chances for the nomination, Thone said.

Bandung Is Growing

Bandung, Indonesia (AP) — This famous mountain resort in West Java, scene of the first African-Asian conference, has passed the million population mark. It's Indonesia's third largest city, after Jakarta's 2½ million and Surabaja's 1¼ million.

Deputy Sheriff's Hiring Approved

The hiring of Vincent C. McNeil of 322 So. 15th as a deputy sheriff was approved Tuesday by the County Board.

McNeil, 36, will join Sheriff Merle Karnopp's night patrol Wednesday. His salary will be $335 a month.

Karnopp also announced night jailer Jack Spieker, 26, of 2991 Holdrege, will join the night patrol. Three cars are used to patrol the county at night.

Three deputies recently resigned to accept better paying jobs. Karnopp has yet to fill one deputy vacancy and the night jailer post.

'Pitch And Putt' Course Okayed

The County Board Tuesday approved the establishment of a "pitch and putt" golf course on an 8-acre tract north of the Y Motel at 56th and Cornhusker.

No one appeared at a public hearing in opposition to motel operator Vern Strauch's request for an amusement license to operate the course.

Strauch said the course probably will be in operation by late summer.

Appointment OK'd

The appointment of Dr. Donald T. Waggener to the City-County Health Board was approved Tuesday by the County Board. He will fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. F. G. Laymon.

Pen Warden: 'More Work Helps Cons'

One of the greatest challenges of a penal institution is to get the inmates "constructively occupied," State Penitentiary Warden Maurice Sigler told Lincoln Rotarians Tuesday.

He pointed out the need for an adult education program for every penal institution. "We don't have enough work for the inmates at the penitentiary."

He noted that many of the inmates request work 7 days a week. The large majority of them don't want to be in the penitentiary and are anxious to become prepared and to keep alert so they will be accepted by society when they are dismissed, Sigler said.

"We find in case histories that they have no real vocation," he said. The average education of the inmates is about 7th grade and most of them are completely devoid of religious training."

It is very aparent that penal institutions lack proper leisure time activities for inmates, Sigler said. After the many penitentiary riots throughout the nation it was found in a study of 39 penitentiaries, 36 had no leisure time program "worth mentioning" he pointed out.

8 Republican Dinners Set In May, June

Eight more Republican appreciation dinners have been scheduled in May and June, GOP State Budget and Finance Chairman John Riddell of York announced Tuesday.

The dinners are part of a program to obtain 20,000 small contributions from Nebraskans for the 1960 Republican campaign.

The party plans to have at least 50 county and regional dinners before the fall election, Riddell said.

Three recent dinners at Ord, Thedford and South Sioux City were attended by more than 700 persons.

Newly-scheduled dinners and speakers:

Scottsbluff: Scotts Bluff County, Secretary to the Cabinet Robert Gray; $5 a plate, May 23.
North Platte: Lincoln County, gubernatorial nominee John Cooper; $5 a plate, May 26.
McCook: Red Willow County, Sen. Carl Curtis; $5 a plate, May 27.
Aurora: Hamilton County, Gray; $5 a plate, June 1
Minden: Kearney County, Cooper; $5 a plate, June 6.
David City: Butler County, Curtis, former State Treasurer Mrs. Ralph Hill; $5 a plate, June 7.
Burwell: Garfield County, State Chairman Charles Thone; $5 a plate, June 9.
Beatrice: Gage County, Gray; $10 a plate, June 21.

Prisoner Dies

Nashville, Tenn. (AP) — A pretty 26-year-old woman convict died, police said, a few hours after she ate a deadly mash made from crushed rosary beads and a powder form of rat poison.

She was listed as Mrs. Judy Tudor Majestic, mother of two children. She was serving time on charges of passing worthless checks.

Khrushchev Made 'Most Serious Blunder' Of His Career, Nixon Says

By Jack Bell

Auburn, N.Y. (AP) -- Vice President Nixon said Tuesday night the collapse of the summit conference will not swerve the free world from a firm, non-belligerent course of preserving its rights in Berlin.

Nixon, making a series of personal appearances in this upstate New York area, said Soviet Premier Khrushchev had made the "most serious blunder" of his career in scuttling the 4-power meeting in Paris.

The vice president told a news conference he is satisfied in his own mind that Khrushchev wanted a way out of a meeting because Khrushchev could not visualize any Berlin agreements that would be reached there to which he could subscribe.

To accomplish the collapse of the Paris meeting, Nixon said, Khrushchev blew up the U2 spy plane incident far beyond any legitimate grounds for a protest.

"Mr. Khrushchev obviously overplayed his hand," Nixon said. "He thought he had world opinion on his side. But the people were not fooled. To his surprise world reaction has turned heavily against him."

Nixon described Khrushchev as "a master of espionage who directs the most far-flung, insidious espionage system in the world."

Nixon said that, before President Eisenhower left for Paris, Eisenhower had informed him of his intention to present to the summit conference a proposal that the United Nations undertake aerial surveillance with the type of equipment in the U2.

The vice president made it clear that Eisenhower's proposal would include an offer to equip such a force with U2 planes which this country developed.

Nixon won applause from an overflow crowd at dinner honoring Rep. John Taber (R-NY) when he said Khrushchev should apologize to the United States and the free nations of the world "for breaking up this conference and for the thousands of espionage agents he has operating all over the world."

Rallies In Russia Back Up Khrush

Moscow (AP)—Russians from ballerinas to blacksmiths responded to an intense Soviet press and radio campaign Tuesday, staging rallies and proclaiming their support for Premier Khrushchev's stance at the summit.

In a highly organized campaign, the rallies condemned American spy flights over the Soviet Union. The climax may be a show trial of Francis G. Powers, the U.S. pilot whose U2 plane was shot down 1,200 miles inside Soviet territory on May Day.

The rallies backed Khrushchev's demands that President Eisenhower apologize for spy flights, promise to end them and punish those responsible.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Khruschev won unanimous support at meetings in Tiflis, Moscow, Gorky, Vilna, Vladivostok, Khabarosvk and numerous collective and state farms.

Moscow Radio told its Russian listeners:

"By refusing to condemn the aggressive act of the U.S. military authorities, Eisenhower has shown at the same time his unwillingness to conduct summit talks in a normal and healthy atmosphere, on an equal basis and not under threats and pressure from the U.S.A."

(The broadcast ignored President Eisenhower's cancellation of the U2 flights over Soviet territory.)

In all cases the blame was put square on the U.S. government and American leaders. Eisenhower was generally not referred to by name.

Moscow's cultural papers were filled with appeals for artists and authors in the United States to denounce U.S. policies on the spy flights.

NATO Summit Meet Being Eyed

Paris (AP) — Western diplomats Tuesday night reported plans are being studied to call an early summit conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Oganization.

The purpose of the meeting would be to demonstrate the solidarity of the West in the wake of the East-West summit conference.

Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France have tentatively arranged to report to NATO'S permanent council here on the crisis that has hit the Big 4 conference. Informants said they also may discuss the proposed meeting of NATO heads of government.

Impressive Showing

Vatican City (AP) — A gallery of art created in the last century has opened in Vatican City. Among its 21 paintings and 7 sculptures are works of Auguste Rodin, Georges Roualt, Jacques Villon, Maurice Utrillo, Girgio de Chirico and Carlo Carra.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

"The birdies sing and everything . . ."

With a population increase estimated at 400 each golden day, the Golden State of California simply bursts with pride and satisfaction.

"California to Reach 50,000,000.

"Predicts Famed Scientist."

That was a headline in our papers the other day. (The story was buried in the vitamin ads. So I imagine the news editor was not so sure, either.)

Anyway, we estimated Los Angeles alone will be 10,000,000 sardined souls by the turn of the century.

Even my own little suburb—some estimator tossed us a half million more people recently. He estimated it like he was doing me a favor. Good grief!

☆ ☆ ☆

I think this all comes about through a curious conditioned reflex. In California, we grew up that way.

When I was a young molder of public opinion, we toyed with the visiting actress thusly:

"Lady, if you had a choice, where would you make your home?"

The answers were quite simple. The results predictable:

"If I were free of my commitments in (plug name of current show here)—I would live in San Francisco. I think of it as my spiritual home."

(This was good for Page 3 at least in San Francisco — in Los Angeles they would throw it out of the paper.)

Or, "if I did not expect to be in (name of show) for the next five years of this successful drama, I would make my nest in Los Angeles."

But — if the lady said: "Of all my fondest dreams, nay, my dearest hopes, I would like to retire to a little nook or cranny of California. Which I consider an earthly Paradise. Naturally, after I finish my successful run in (name of show)."

We considered this the homage justly due.

We gave her good space and printed her picture, to boot.

As the state filled with 10,000,000-plus people, I note the course of journalism has changed, too.

Nowadays, we are more impressed with the Famed Scientist who predicts us in huge statistics. (We still have room for the interviewed lady and her spiritual home, however. I think we react like Pavlov's dogs who got ready for dinner when the dinner bell rang.)

We do not battle any longer with Florida.

Heavenly days, the way we used to look for ways to bum-rap Florida oranges!

"Florida Citrus Fruit
"Lacks Vitamin Content
"Says Famed Professor"

A professor could get famous just making a remark like that.

We compared weather charts. They proved that Florida's climate gave you winter colds. Also summer heat rash.

We interviewed antique gentlemen who reached their hundredth year by moving to the Golden State. (The doctors in Iowa gave them up.)

On such gilded wings we speed to the magic population figure of 50,000,000.

At which point your correspondent intends to reduce it to 49,999,999.

Watch Oregon grow.

Opinion Given On Surfacing Streets In County

The attorney general ruled Tuesday that a county board may not require the streets of sub-divisions lying outside city limits to be hard surfaced.

The opinion was for Dixon G. Adams, Papillion, Sarpy County attorney.

The opinion said there is no statutory authority conferring upon the counties the right to require the streets of sub-divisions within a county to be hard surfaced.

—EAST GERMANY—

Separate Peace Pact Is Unlikely

. . . In Immediate Future

By Reinhold Ensz

Berlin (AP)—Leading communist sources Tuesday night declared it is not the purpose of Soviet Premier Khrushchev in coming to East Berlin to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

Informed Soviet sources in Paris said Khrushchev plans to stop in Berlin on his way home from the collapsed summit conference.

Horst Sinderman, head of the East German Communist Party's Central Committee, in a radio and television broadcast said signing of a treaty would be preceded by a regular peace conference.

"There is apparently great excitement in the West," he said. "Some people there conclude Khrushchev is coming to Berlin to sign a peace treaty with the DDR (the East German government) and then there is going to be some kind of war or I don't know what.

"Such a conclusion is, of course, ridiculous."

K. To See Ulbricht

Khrushchev told newsmen in Paris he wants to see Walter Ulbricht, chief of East Germany's ruling communists.

There were signs in East Berlin that a high level visit is expected. Flagpoles and loudspeakers used during the May Day celebration were being erected again in Marx-Engels Platz, the communist parade square.

Mention of a Soviet-East German peace treaty chills allied officials. They fear it might result in stopping their military traffic to and from West Berlin. Up to now, Western lifelines have been under Soviet control. The East Germans have declared the allies will have to negotiate with them about further access if a peace treaty is signed.

Officials of the Western allies say they don't believe a Soviet-East German peace treaty will be signed in the near future.

New Reports Up Martin's Contributions

Additional reports to the Nebraska Secretary of State's office bring the total spent by or collected on behalf of David Martin of Kearney, successful Republican candidate for Congress, 4th District, to $6,327.

The Martin for Congress Committee reported $250 more collected. It earlier reported $4,350 collected, of which $4,000 was donated by Martin himself.

Martin's personal report listed $1,727 spent in campaigning.

The Whelan for Congress Committee reported collecting $990 on behalf of Gerald T. Whelan of Hastings, successful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress, First District.

Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney of Hartington, who was nominated again for the post on the Republican ticket, reported spending $653 on his campaign.

Other candidates filing expense statements Tuesday included:

Legislative candidates: Harry A. Foster, Omaha, 5th District, $214; Sam Klaver, Omaha, 6th District, $142; William Skarda, Omaha, 7th District, $105; William Brandt, Unadilla, 2nd District, $165; Jack Windle, Nebraska City, 2nd District, $533, and Henry Boesen, Omaha, 4th District, $10.

District judge candidates: 4th District: Donald Brodkey, $100; John E. Murphy, $207; James O'Brien, $240; Frank G. Nimtz, $221; Robert Smith, $971, and Patrick Lynch, $177; 2nd District, John M. Dierks of Nebraska City, $10; 5th District, H. Emerson Kokjer of Wahoo, $88; 9th District, George W. Dittrick of Norfolk, $302, and 12th District, S. S. Sidner of Kearney, $447.

Omaha Public Power District: Melvin Bekins, $203, and M. Mike Meyers, $213.

Dodgers Drop Furillo, Old Pro Makes Bitter Protest

Los Angeles (AP)— One of baseball's longest and brightest associations came to an end Tuesday when the Dodgers gave Carl Furillo his unconditional release.

It ended not on the usual hearts-and-flowers theme but in bitterness and counter-accusations.

E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, the Dodgers' vice president and general manager, announced the 38-year-old one-time hero of Flatbush had reached the end of the line.

"I've been betrayed. They just didn't have to do it this way," said a bitter Furillo.

A badly pulled muscle in the right calf kept Furillo on the bench most of this new season and led to the climax.

Bavasi said waivers had been asked on the big outfielder.

Bavasi said Furillo had been offered a place with the Dodgers' Spokane club in the Pacific Coast League.

But, said Bavasi, the old pro rejected the offer.

In a crisp, prepared statement, the youngish vice president said Furillo had to go to make way for younger talent.

"The players," declared Bavasi, "told me he would create a stink when he went out —and they were right.

"A week ago Furillo called me and said, "I can't get out of bed. I can't help this club any more.'

"I tried to get him on the disabled list but the commissioner (Ford Frick) wouldn't go for it. I had no alternative but to release him. I called Carl last week and told him I would find him a good job in the organization.

"But that doesn't go any more.

Furillo had branded as "lousy" the way he had been treated in the past few days.

CHIEFS THUMP BEES

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

* * *

Sports Editor, The Star

Bad Weather

Lincoln isn't the only club in organized baseball to feel the weather pinch in the early 1960 going.

All of the Three I League teams have been hurt, and the weather bugaboo seems to be universal.

Dick Churan, former Chiefs' aide-de-camp to Dick Wagner and ex-Nebraska State League umpire, is now working for the Howe News Bureau in Chicago where he processes statistics for the Southern Association, Texas, Eastern and Pioneer Leagues.

Dick writes: "All the leagues have been suffering from the early spring weather . . . and some of the attendances in the Southern and Texas have really been horrible. Last week here the Cubs were postponed for 6 straight days."

Churan also passes on the word that he occasionally talks to ex-umpire Max Stone.

"He is still working at the same place," Dick pens, referring to the Skokie, Ill., steel corporation where the renowned baseball scene-stealer labors.

What Happened?

Mark down Welterweight Don Jordan as the most red-faced champion in recent years, in more ways than one.

Not only is he being embarrassed, he's getting roughed up in the process.

Since winning the welter crown from Virgil Akins in December of 1958, Jordan's only claim to prominence is a win over Denny Moyer.

Last December Federico Thompson TKO'd the champ in Buenos Aires and this week he was bloodied up by 20-year-old Candy McFarland, who took a unanimous decision.

Left holding the bag after Jordan's latest flop are the promoters for his May 27 title defense against Benny (Kid) Paret in Las Vegas.

It will be tough pushing ducats for that bout.

Tigers 'Loaded'

There's no pessimism in the Missouri football camp, not by a long shot.

Coach Dan Devine addressed a Kansas City Rotary Club and informed the group that the Tigers of 1960 should be better than their 1959 predecessors.

Remember last year's Tigers? They were second in the Big 8 and gave a good account of themselves in the Orange Bowl.

Main reason for Devine's optimism is a flock of outstanding backs—Mel West, Donnie Smith, Norris Stevenson, Norm Beal, Ed Mehrer, Fred Brossart, Jim Miles and Skip Snyder.

Put this information together with reports that Kansas is "loaded," Colorado is "much improved" and Oklahoma is still Oklahoma and you get a warning of what's to come.

Nebraska is slated to be quite a bit better, too, but the Cornhuskers will have to be, if they're to hang in there against such revved up outfits as the Jayhawks, Tigers, Buffs and Sooners.

Since it's a cinch—no propaganda campaign—most, if not all, of the conference football teams will be stronger next fall, the 1960 Big 8 race should be a rouser.

ONE-MAN GANGS MAY TIP CLASS C SCALES

By Al Beebe

Lacking a host of standout individuals, Class C substitutes what should be a close, low-scoring team race in the State Track and Field Championships.

O'Neill St. Mary's won last year with 26 points. Two years ago, Hooper needed only 13½ points to take the crown. This year's total should be somewhere between the two.

Points may be split enough to allow Wakefield's one-man gang, Dale Fischer, to win by himself. He is a strong first place contender in both hurdles and the high jump, which would total 18 points.

Mullen could win, mostly on the efforts of 220-440 ace Larry Sweet, who qualified with the fastest times in both events.

Arapahoe has a well-balanced squad led by Allan Wengert, another 220-440 ace.

Class C Capsule On Next Page

Kirby Brothers

David City St. Mary's boasts fine depth led by Dennis and John Kirby.

One of these 4 teams should win, with Ravenna also rating an outside chance.

Most likely record to fall is the mile, where the defending champion and record-holder, David Blankenbaker of Red Cloud, is back. His record is 4:35.5, and he has a best of 4:36.2 this year. He had the fastest qualifying time of 4:37.8.

He will again compete with Ted Widhalm of Norfolk Sacred Heart, who ran 4:34.2 in one meet last year and has done 4:34.6 this campaign. Widhalm got boxed in last year and finished 4th behind Blankenbaker.

Rest Trail

These two should leave the rest of the field behind, leaving them free to run for a record.

Sweet's 22.6 in the furlong matched that Class C record, and he has done 22.3. Conn Fickel of Hemingford equaled the 100 mark of 10.0 in the district.

Other top stars are discus thrower LeRoy Miller of Wood River and shot putter Bob Peterson from Alma. Both could approach records.

CRAPPIE RECORD BROKEN

Nebraska waters have yielded a record breaking crappie, the State Game Commission reported Tuesday.

The prize is a 3-pound, 5-ounce black crappie taken by Charles (Pat) Reed of Kearney from a sand pit south of that city.

The record breaker weighed an ounce more than the previous record crappie, taken from Lake McConaughy 3 years ago by A. E. Hueppelheuster of Lincoln.

In general, fishing has been improving of late in Nebraska, the commission's weekly creel census indicated.

4-Run 5th, Woods' 6-Hit Pitching Bring 5-2 Win

Lincoln Star Special

Burlington, Ia. — Lincoln parlayed a weird 4-run 5th inning with Ron Woods' 6-hit pitching for a 5-2 Three-I League victory over Burlington Tuesday night.

The Chiefs were outhit 6-5 but picked up their winning margin on a pair of walks, a bloop double, a single and an error.

Chiefs newcomer Don Buford led off the 8th inning with a home run over the right-center field wall.

Woods Tires

Woods, in charge all the way, tired in the 9th after Burlington Player-Manager Harding Peterson lived on an error and pinch hitter Ed Montgomery drew a walk.

Jerry Moeller took the mound and retired the side in order.

Al Weis followed with a looper over first base that scored Williamson. With the Bee infield pulled in tight, Gary Johnson popped a single over the head of shortstop Bobby Sanchez.

Merry-Go-Round

The one-base blow scored both Woods and Weis. Johnson ran all the way home when Aldrich threw past 3rd base on the same merry-go-round.

A walk to Peterson, Gil Watts' scratch hit off Dick Selinger's glove and Weis' error set up Burlington for its runs.

Lefthanders Julio Imbreck (0-0) and Phil Andreas (1-1) of the Bees will face Lincoln righthanders Ron Plath (2-1) and Ron Teunis (2-3) in a doubleheader tonight.

Chief Newcomers

—DODGERS SOLVE BUHL—

Howard Slam Beats Braves

Milwaukee (AP)—Big Frank Howard, recalled from the minors last Friday, cracked a bases-loaded homer in the 8th inning Tuesday night to boost the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 6-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

Handcuffed on 6 hits and one run for 7 innings, the Dodgers caught up with Milwaukee's Bob Buhl, an old nemesis, in the 8th with the help of an error.

Singles by Wally Moon and Norm Larker and a double by first baseman Joe Adcock loaded the bases for Howard.

The former Ohio State star ran the count to 3-1 and then cracked a towering drive which sailed some 450 feet to dead center.

Husker Lineup Gets Shakeup

. . . CHURCHICH, REDMOND START

By Don Bryant

Nebraska's baseball team, which finally salvaged two games from Kansas after an 11-game losing streak, will have a revamped lineup when it closes the 1959 season at Oklahoma Friday and Saturday.

Coach Tony Sharpe announced Tuesday that veteran first baseman Ken Ruisinger dropped from the squad after being benched during the KU series last weekend.

"I benched him during the second game Saturday and he chose not to remain with the squad," Sharpe said.

Two other players, both sophomore catchers, turned in their gear also, Sharpe said.

Myers, Ray Drop

They are Dave Myers, a product of Lincoln Southeast, and Jim Ray of Columbus, Ind.

The Husker coach also indicated that soph shortstop Rex Swett would not be available for the Sooner series because of injury.

Sharpe apparently found an able replacement for Ruisinger, who was hitting .325, in Ely Churchich, who moved from catcher to first against Kansas.

"Ely looks like he will be able to handle the spot well, not only for the remainder of this year but next season, too," Tony said.

Two Homers

Against KU, Churchich got a pair of home runs to boost his team-leading average to .349, and his glove work was acceptable.

Sharpe plans to install soph Bill Redmond, another Lincoln Southeast grad, at shortstop for the Sooner invasion.

Redmond has 5 hits in 9 trips this season for a .556 mark.

—JENNINGS HAPPY WITH NU GRID WORK—

Drills Over, Recruiting Starts Again

Coach Bill Jennings and his assistants took to the recruiting trails Tuesday in the wake of the Nebraska Cornhuskers' spring football drills.

"Pending complete study of all the films, I'll term our spring practice quite successful," Jennings said.

"We've got in a lot of good work and we've got a pretty good idea of who can play where next fall."

The Huskers 3-deep lineup at the conclusion of spring drills includes 14 lettermen, 5 squadmen, 11 sophomores and 3 transfers with the top unit composed of 6 lettermen, 3 squadmen and two first-year players.

Pesek Can't Reach Crusher . . . As X Applies Squeeze.

Pesek-Pard Put End To Dr. X-Atlas

Everyone went home from Pershing Auditorium in gay spirits Tuesday night—everyone but Doctor X and Mighty Atlas.

In an action-packed winter finale—and one of the most exciting shows of the season—Promoter Jack Pesek and his nemesis, The Crusher, teamed to defeat the hooded mystery man and his partner while 1,805 partisan fans cheered approval.

It took a bit of skullduggery to turn the trick.

But since the fans had seen X win via similar tactics on many previous occasions, they didn't mind a bit.

It was poetic justice, considering the fact that X heaved a handful of salt in Pesek's eyes just before the finish.

With the match standing at a fall apiece, Pesek squared off with Atlas only to be hit with a cloud of salt in the face. In the resulting melee, both Pesek and Atlas collided head on and fell to the mat.

Doctor X jumped into the ring, propped up Atlas and tossed him across the prostrate Pesek. But Referee Tom Novak caught X and berated him in the latter's corner.

While Novak's back was turned, the Crusher quickly reversed the situation, rolling Pesek over on top of Atlas.

When Novak turned back to the action, he counted out Atlas and gave the victory to Pesek and The Crusher.

In the slam-bang semifinal, the team of Judy Glover and

. . . AFTER NWU REBUILDING

By Paul LeBar

Nebraska Wesleyan's track forces, pronounced fit by mentor Woody Greeno, are geared for a run on second place in the Nebraska College Conference trials Friday and Saturday.

If the Plainsmen nail down the runnerup spot, it will be Greeno's highest finish since his first try in 1955.

The trail has been filled with bumps for Greeno, who lost talent this spring before starting.

Half-miler Ken Govaerts, discus thrower Jim Wiberg, javelin thrower J. V. Olson and sprinter Doug Anderson were the unexpected casualties.

Vets, Newcomers

Restoration of Wesleyan fortunes has been accomplished around a handful of veterans and a couple of promising newcomers.

Oldtimers are quarter-milers Dean Sell and Gary Hofmann, broad jumper-javelin thrower Bob Busteed, hurdlers Larry Bartels and Dean Pedersen, miler Art Freiberg, sprinters Charles Trautman and Tony Herman and broad jumper Paul Martin.

Greeno won't count the recovery of Trautman, ex-prep dash whiz, complete until after the NCC meet.

Hurdles Work

Formula for keeping the injury-prone Big Springs junior healthy involved training the athlete early on the hurdles.

Trautman's first flat race was April 21. Since then he's come along in his best form since his freshman days.

Freshman lending aid have been vaulter David Crawford, half-miler Tom Whiddon and hurdler-discus thrower Dan McCord.

All 3 could get into the money in their pet events Friday and Saturday.

440, 880 Set

Greeno indicated he'll enter Hofmann and Sell in the 440 and Whiddon in the 880 at the NCC.

Trautman will skip the low hurdles for the century and furlong.

Best bets for blue ribbons are Bartels in the low hurdles and Busteed in the broad jump.

Plainsmen squad for the meet:

Mile — Freiberg, Warren Woods. Two-mile—Rich Carlson. 440—Hofmann, Sell, Tom Evans. 880—Whiddon, Fred Uhlrich. Sprints—Dave Hellbusch, Trautman, Herman. Hurdles—Bartels, Pedersen, Don Johnson, McCord.

880-yard relay—Bartels, Trautman, Herman, Hellbusch. Mile relay—Truatman, Sell, Hofmann and Whiddon or Martin. Two-mile relay—Hofmann, Whiddon, Freiberg and Woods or Uhlrich.

Pole vault—Crawford, Hart St. John, Dick Miller. Discus—McCord, Roy Lagerblade, Jaak Aulik or Lynn Schmid. Shot put—none. High jump—Johnson. Broad jump—Busteed, Martin. Javelin—Busteed.

Esposito, Big Klu Lead As Chisox Drub Boston

Chicago (AP)— Light hitting Sammy Esposito and slugging Ted Kluszewski led a 14-hit attack Tuesday night which carried the Chicago White Sox to an 11-6 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The victory was the 7th straight at home for the White Sox who have suffered all 10 of their losses on foreign fields.

Esposito, who entered the game with a .100 batting average, drove in 3 runs in the 5th inning with a bases-clearing double and singled home another in the 7th inning.

Kluszewski banged out a pair of singles and a double, scored two runs and drove in another.

Bob Shaw went 8 innings for the White Sox although tagged for 12 hits including homers by Frank Malzone, Gene Stephens and Haywood Sullivan. The triumph was the 3rd for Shaw against two losses.

Right-hander Tom Brewer, who bested Shaw 1-0 on a two-hitter in Boston last week, suffered the loss—his 3rd in 5 decisions.

ABE LINCOLN TAMES LINKS

Lincoln Star Special

Council Bluffs, Ia.—Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln exploded for 4 runs in the 6th inning to wrap up a 7-2 verdict over Lincoln High Tuesday.

The loss dropped Lincoln to 1-3 in Inter-City League baseball.

Mickey Snider, Lincoln starter, faced 5 Abe Lynx batters in the fatal inning without a putout.

Giants Get 3 Homers In Routing Reds, 9-3

Cincinnati (AP)—Slugging San Francisco trounced Cincinnati's Reds Tuesday night with 3 Giant home runs leading a 9-2 rout.

The Reds, who cuffed Giant pitching freely in a Cincinnati victory Monday night, were held nearly powerless by righthander Jack Sanford.

Sanford allowed only 6 hits and struck out 4 in his 4th triumph in 5 decisions this season.

His teammates supported him with 14 hits, starting off with Jim Davenport's single on the first pitch of the game.

The Giants jumped right off to a 4-0 lead in the first, then added two runs in the second and chased starter Jim O'Toole.

Misjudged Infield Fly Helps NE 9

A misjudged infield fly sent home the winning run in the bottom of the 9th as Lincoln Northeast edged Pius X 3-2 on the Rocket diamond Tuesday.

Northeast had loaded the bases on Norm McKinnon's base hit and bunts by Dave Lebsask and Earl Wright.

When Ron Peet lofted a pop in the infield, he was ruled out by the umpire, but Pius first-baseman Jack Cook missed the catch and McKinnon raced home from 3rd.

Northeast had rallied from a 2-0 defict to tie and send the game past a scheduled 7 innings.

Daryl Travnicek's base-jammed single plated two Pius talies in the second but NE got singletons back in the 6th and 7th.

Jim Marple's double followed a walk and stolen base by Peet for a run in the 6th and Wright's infield groundout with the bases loaded in the 7th tied it.

Peet hurled shutout ball the last 7 innings after releiving Mel Hester to get the win. Gene Graff, who lasted until Northeast loaded the sacks in the 9th, took the loss.

PLATTER TRACK COACH RESIGNS

Lincoln Star Special

North Platte — Larry Barnes, 28, head track coach at North Platte high school, Tuesday announced he's resigning to return to professional football.

Barnes has signed with the Oakland Raiders of the new American Football League.

He had played with San Francisco's 49ers as a defensive end in the National Football League 4 years ago before being forced out of action with a knee injury. Barnes joined the North Platte staff last fall.

Lary Sets Nats Back On 7 Hits

Detroit (AP)— Frank Lary scattered 7 hits Tuesday night as he pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 3-1 victory over the Washington Senators.

Lary retired the last 12 batters in order to win his 3rd game in 5 decisions.

The loser was Pedro Ramos, who dropped his 5th game without a victory. The Senators now have scored 5 runs for the Cuban righthander in 6 starts.

Norm Cash led the Tigers with a single and double.

Bell In 5th Win Over NY

Cleveland (AP) — Gary Bell pitched his 5th victory of the season Tuesday night as the Cleveland Indians trounced the New York Yankees 7-6.

Victory was preserved for Bell (5-1) by rookie Dick Stigman, who choked off a Yankee rally in the 9th inning after Mickey Mantle slammed a 3-run home run over the left field fence.

Pesek-Crusher Best X-Atlas

Millie Stafford whipped Dot Dotson and Beverly Lehman.

The winners spotted the losers the first fall, then won two straight in a scrap that saw all 4 gals flailing away most of the time.

Ernie Dusek and Otto Von Krupp battled to a draw in the opener, which saw the Omaha veteran apply his pet Boston Crab so effectively near the end that the German had trouble goose-stepping at the end—while Ernie found it easy to mimic his foe—much to the fans' delight.

Following his victory, Pesek announced that a summer program of matches is planned, with the first show at air-conditioned Pershing Auditorium slated for July 16.

Bucs Rip Cubs 11-6; Friend Nails 5th Win

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates outslugged the Chicago Cubs 11-6 Tuesday night as Bob Friend picked up his 5th victory of the season against one loss.

Although Friend never was in danger of losing, he was hit harder than at any other time this year. Chicago rocked him for 11 hits, including Ernie Banks' 8th home run.

Friend went into the game with a 1.58 earned run average. Pittsburgh battered 4 Chicago pitchers for 13 hits. Starter Glen Hobbie was the loser.

Nebraska Wesleyan Teacher Earns Doctorate In Music

Robert W. Weidner, assistant professor of instrumental music and theory at Nebraska Wesleyan University, next month becomes one of the few college faculty members in the immediate area to have earned doctorates in music.

Weidner's Doctor of Philosophy degree will be formally conferred (in absentia) by the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester (N.Y.) at that school's commencement exercises June 12. He began his Ph.D. studies the summer of 1954, majoring in musicology, with minors in theory and composition. He continued resident work in succeeding summers.

The Wesleyan professor completed requirements for the degree last Friday with a successful oral defense of his dissertation on "The Early 'In Nomine': A Genesis of Chamber Music," dealing with a series of 16th-century pieces for viols, all based on the same liturgical melody. He describes the "In Nomine," an English phenomenon, as one of the first efforts in chamber music in western musical history.

Weidner is thought to be the only current resident of Nebraska to qualify for a doctorate in the field of musicology, applying the critical, analytical method to the study of music and music history.

A native of Brookfield, Wis., he is a graduate of Solomon Juneau High School, Milwaukee. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in music and music education from Milwaukee State Teachers College in 1949, and a Master of Arts in musicology from Eastman in 1951.

Weidner joined the Wesleyan music faculty last fall. He is director of the 25-piece Nebraska Wesleyan University Orchestra, which he established as a continuous, year-around organization for the first time in recent years. Previously he taught at Nazareth College in Rochester, N.Y.; Texas Lutheran, Seguin, Tex.; and Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio.

His wife is the former Jocelyn Louise Sack of Savannah, Ga., also an accomplished musician. They gave a joint bassoon-voice recital at Wesleyan May 8.

Watch That Rain

Chicago (UPI)—Roads are likely to be more dangerous during the first rain after a long dry spell, the Chicago Motor Club warns. The club said it takes up to two days to wash accumulated oil from the highway.

2 Nebraskans Get Fulbrights

Two Nebraskans have been awarded Fulbright scholarships to study abroad, the state committee on state Fulbright scholarships announced Tuesday.

Winners are Ann Amelia Alberts of Hastings and Leendert Kersten of Lincoln.

Miss Alberts is a graduate of Hastings College. She received a grant to study protzoology at the University of Vienna, Austria.

Kersten, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, received a grant to study kinematics at the Technical Institute, Munich, Germany.

NWU 68-PIECE BAND TO GIVE OPEN-AIR CONCERT WEDNESDAY

Nebraska Wesleyan University's 68-piece Concert Band will present an open-air concert at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday on the patio of the school's new Campus Center.

The concert is free to the public. Director Robert L. Marshall, associate professor of music, urged listeners — parents, children, "and even dogs and cats" — to find places on the lawn just north of the student center.

The program will feature light music, including a musical tribute to the late Glenn Miller.

In the event of bad weather, the concert will be cancelled.

NebraskaNormal Board Meeting In Kearney Monday

The Nebraska State Normal Board will hold its May meeting in Kearney Monday to coincide with the laying of the cornerstone of the new men's physical education building on the teachers college campus.

E. Albin Larson, secretary of the board, said there will also be an inspection tour of the campus.

The cornerstone ceremonies of the building, to cost $1,300,000 fully equipped, are to be handled by the Grand Lodge of Nebraska, AF&AM, of which Joseph Tye of Kearney is Grand Master.

Enjoy the Sweetest Rhythm on the Road!

A new performance concept made possible by the combination of two great new Phillips 66 products.

NEW TROP-ARTIC

offers you what no motor oil ever could before

New Trop-Artic* brings to the aid of your motor a new lubricating formula that cleans, protects, and preserves smooth performance under the most severe engine tests for automobile oil.

The secret of Trop-Artic's exceptional performance is a revolutionary super-cleaning element called PDA, made only by Phillips Petroleum Company. In hundreds of thousands of miles of testing, typical car owners reported these important benefits from new Trop-Artic with PDA:

- Less oil consumption
- Less engine knocking
- Less mis-firing
- More miles per gallon of gasoline
- Cleaner oil filters

Change to new Trop-Artic Motor Oil and see if you don't notice these improvements in the performance of your car!

*A trademark

NEW FLITE-FUEL

The new gasoline that's super powerful and super smooth!

New Flite-Fuel is a blend of super-high performance components perfectly matched to the natural rhythm of today's high compression motors. It vaporizes quickly . . . fires with split-second accuracy . . . delivers a mighty thrust of power without roughness or ping. It can quiet your motor as it increases your car's power and responsiveness.

New Flite-Fuel and new Trop-Artic Motor Oil help each other to help your car run better. Together, they make possible "the Sweetest Rhythm on the Road" . . . a new high in car performance that's smoother, quieter, livelier . . . and thriftier, too! Leading Madam Nabbed

New York (UPI)—A blonde countess with a Fifth Avenue address was arrested Tuesday on charges of operating a call girl ring of white, Negro and Oriental girls that netted her $100,000 a year.

A federal indictment accused Countess Spedding-Maresca of sending her girls on play-for-pay missions as far away as Venezuela for fees ranging from $50 to $300 a date.

Countess Caught

FBI agents arrested the 45-year-old Countess in her apartment in the "Millionaire's Row" section overlooking Central Park and seized a wide assortment of pornographic photographs.

Knockout String

Assistant U.S. Attorney Stephen E. Kaufman said the Countess had a "knockout" string of 30 call girls recruited from the ranks of showgirls and models.

When business was good, he said, the Canadian-born Countess took in "at least $2,500 a week."

Kaufman said the Countess, who was indicted under the name of Elizabeth Spedding, was herself a prostitute and kept all of her earnings, while taking a 50-50 split from the girls working for her.

Tearful

The Countess had tears in her eyes when brought into federal court. She told Judge John F. X. McGohey that she did not have enough money to hire an attorney. Pleading to the indictment was adjourned to give her time to obtain counsel or have the court assign a lawyer.

She was indicted on 7 counts of transporting girls across state and national boundaries for immoral purposes. Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine upon conviction.

Ike Expected

Lisbon, Portugal (AP) — Reports spread in the Portuguese capital that President Eisenhower may visit this country before May 23, the scheduled date for his arrival.

Because of the breakup of the summit conference in Paris, reports said the President might arrive most any time — either setting ahead the date for his official 24-hour visit, or remaining here unofficially until May 23.

Good Will Mission

Toyama, Japan (AP)—A 4-man Japanese good will mission headed by Teruji Kobayashi, director of the Soviet-Japan Society, left here aboard the Soviet vessel Kivshiev for Siberia en route to Moscow. The missioners said they would discuss art and cultural exchanges on a one-month visit.

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). State Fair Program 'Balanced'

Well balanced is the word for the program at the coming 1960 Nebraska State Fair September 3-9 inclusive.

That's the view expressed by Fair Board President Fred Rehmeier of Weeping Water and Secretary Edwin Schultz of Lincoln.

A particularly good livestock show is expected to head up the agricultural side of the Fair. Other top agricultural features will include the 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America shows, the only complete, state-wide such shows in Nebraska.

Money May Hit High

While totals are not yet all in, it appears that the premium money offered in the various competitive classes will hit another record high.

Meanwhile, early space reservations indicate that the State Fair industrial show will be just as outstanding as the agricultural show.

On the entertainment side, some of the best known names in show business will be featured.

4 Lads On Tap

The grandstand show the first four nights of the Fair will headline Carmel Quinn, who rose to fame on the Arthur Godfrey TV show, the Four Lads, Buddy Morrow and his orchestra and Roger Ray, plus other outstanding acts.

Singing Star Pat Boone and his all star cast will appear in front of the grandstand the fifth and sixth nights of the Fair, while the Aut Swenson Thrillcade is booked for the final night — which promises a thrill a minute.

Afternoon programs will include big car and stock car races and a "surprise package of fun" for both youngsters and adults.

Extended Area Phone Service To Beatrice Denied

The Nebraska Railway Commission announced Tuesday it has denied an application by Henry Gramann Jr. and other Adams residents for extended area telephone service to Beatrice.

The extended area service would have eliminated toll charges on calls between Adams and Beatrice.

In other action, the commission also:

Authorized the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., Omaha, to revise certain pages of its local exchange service tariff.

Approved a first revised base rate area map of Northwestern Bell for the McCook area.

Set a hearing for June 10 in the court house at Ord on an application by the Rodeo Telephone Membership Corp., Burwell, for a certificate of necessity for certain additions to the original territory.

Set a hearing for June 14 in the Capitol on the sale of the Cuming County Independent Telephone Co. Homer Thompson and C. Elizabeth Thompson applied as sellers, and J. E. Nelson and Paul D. Dunlap as buyers.

Burlington To End Its Agency At Diller

The State Railway Commission said Tuesday it has authorized the Burlington Railroad to discontinue its agency at Diller.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad was authorized to replace its station building at Walton.

The Southeast Nebraska Telephone Company of Falls City was authorized to increase its telephone rates.

How Much is a Gallon of Paint?

By LEONARD MOZER

You can buy a gallon of paint for as little as $1.98 or as much as $10.00 or more and, when you buy it, you'll find you get pretty much what you pay for.

Makers of cheap paints can't afford to use expensive non-fading pigment colors. They also have to use low cost "vehicles" that leave a thin brittle film that soon ceases to cover and protect the surface.

The best quality paint is made with the finest, most enduring pigment colors, and with a vehicle of costly oils that form a tough protective film that keeps on protecting the surface for years longer.

Du Pont Paints are the finest we know. They are all made to a single standard of excellence, to sell at the lowest prices consistent with lasting satisfaction. So, whether you do the work yourself or have it done professionally, you'll be far ahead if you buy Du Pont—the paint that's worth the work . . . the beauty lasts!

Martin's Victory Conceded By Bixler

Kearney (AP)—David T. Martin of Kearney said Tuesday he had received a telegram from Monroe Bixler of Harrison, conceding him the victory in the contest for the Republican nomination for Fourth District Congressman.

Martin

With absentee and disabled voter ballots counted in all but Scotts Bluff County, Martin had a 360-vote margin over Bixler.

Martin, Kearney lumberman, said he had received the following telegram from Bixler:

"Congratulations on your nomination. The issues of the coming campaign are the differences of principle of the political parties. Since we both stand for the basic principles of the Republican party you have my most sincere support in the general election."

Martin said he had sent the following reply to Bixler:

"Thanks for your congratulatory telegram. Now that the primary is over we must close ranks and work for a 100% victory in November in Nebraska. You conducted a good clean campaign and I welcome your support in the general election."

With the addition of mail votes in Holt and Arthur Counties, Martin's total vote stands at 15,757 and Bixler's at 15,397.

Meanwhile a re-check of the unofficial figures and inclusion of some mail votes, left the outcome of the contest for the Democratic nomination for attorney general in greater doubt than ever. The verdict must await the count of absent voters ballots and the state canvass.

Paul Rhodes, Bridgeport attorney, led W. O. Baldwin, Hebron attorney, by only 30 votes in the Associated Press re-check of the unofficial vote. The previous tabulation showed Rhodes with a 36-vote margin.

Douglas and Lancaster Counties, where the two candidates polled about 40% of their statewide totals, have not yet counted their mail votes. Douglas County had 699 mail votes, and Lancaster 777.

Rhodes led Baldwin in both counties in the vote cast in last Tuesday's election—7,282 to 5,575 in Douglas County, and 2,341 to 2,231 in Lancaster County.

Latest Associated Press unofficial tabulations gave Rhodes 23,913, Baldwin 23,883. Hal W. Bauer, Lincoln, was 3rd in the 4-man race with 22,362.

21-Year-Old Bradshaw Girl Receives 'Miss York' Title

Lincoln Star Special

York — Charlotte Jean Linder, 21-year-old Bradshaw High school graduate, was crowned 'Miss York' in the Miss America 1960 contest sponsored by the York Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Charlotte Linder

Miss Linder received a $125 scholarship and trophy.

The jeweled tiara was placed on the 1960 queen's head by Miss York of 1936, Mrs. Walter Seng of McCool Junction, the former Elfie Klone of York.

First runner-up was Nadine Marie Schmer of Marquette, a teacher, who received a $75 scholarship, plus $25 awarded as the "Miss Congeniality" winner. Second runner-up was Kay Ferris of Osceola. She received a $50 scholarship. Marilyn Ann Lyle of York was 3rd runner-up.

Miss Linder competed in a field of 12 candidates.

Cook, Warner Get Key GOP Posts

North Platte (UPI) — Nebraska Young Republican chairman Connie Roeser of Ogallala has appointed Ed Cook of Lexington and Jerry Warner of Waverly to key committee posts for the young GOP convention here this week end.

Cook will head the constitution committee which will also include Bill Stewart, Lexington; Bill Palmer, Omaha; Andy Parkansky, Scottsbluff; Sally Cunningham, McCook; John Wendstrandt, Lincoln, and Clark Nichols, Scottsbluff.

Warner was named chairman of the resolutions committee. Other members are Arlan Beam, North Platte; Rosemary McCain, Scottsbluff; Bob Roeser, Ogallala; Loran Schmit, David City; Monroe Usher, Lincoln; Melba Scott, Lincoln, and Ed Narges, Sidney.

Shirley Donelan 'Miss Ogallala'

Ogallala (AP)—Shirley Donelan, 19-year-old student at the American School of Dancing in Hollywood, Calif., is the winner of the Miss Ogallala contest.

Miss Donelan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Donelan of Ogallala, won in a field of 8 contestants. She was a student at UCLA last year.

Shirley will represent Ogallala in the Miss Nebraska contest at Columbus July 1-2.

The reigning Miss America, Linda Lee Mead, crowned the queen.

Ashton Student Writes Winning Freedom Essay

Lincoln Star Special

McCook — Carol Stobbe of Ashton was named winner of the statewide Americanism essay contest, sponsored by the Nebraska American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. James A. Gilbert of McCook, department Americanism chairman of the Auxiliary.

Miss Stobbe

Miss Stobbe, a junior in Ashton High School, will receive a $25 U.S. defense bond for her essay, "The Price of Keeping Freedom." The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Stobbe of Ashton, she is a 3-year member of the Honor Society, member of the Student Council and a member of the school annual and newspaper staff.

Electrical Union Votes 7 To One For WE Contract

Omaha (AP)— The Brotherhood of Electrical Workers has voted nearly 7 to one in favor of a new contract with the Western Electric Plant at Millard.

The vote was taken by Local 1,974 at meetings in Omaha and Millard.

The agreement, which covers 3,500 employes, has an effective date of May 13. It combines $2 to $4.80-a-week raises and expanded medical coverage for an average raise of 10 cents an hour.

A company-financed life insurance policy of $1,000 was doubled. Each employe will receive 4 weeks annual leave after 25 years service.

Also included in the contract is a medical policy of $15,000 per employe paid by the company.

Wage discussions in 1961 and 1962 are permitted by the 3-year contract with freedom of strike action.

Elm Attacks Grain Storage Measure

Washington (AP) — Problems involving grain, oil, irrigation and air service were brought before the Nebraska congressional delegation Tuesday.

It all happened at the weekly breakfast meeting of the delegation which is attended by Nebraskans who happen to be here.

Howard Elm of Lincoln and Ray Cogil of Ogallala represented the Nebraska Grain Dealers Assn.

Elm spoke out against a House amendment to the Agriculture Department appropriations bill which requires the government, when feasible, to use its own storage facilities before placing surplus grain in private bins. He said it would place the government in control of the grain business.

Oil Problem

LeRoy Snyder, Blair, here for the National Oil Jobbers Council meeting, said there also was an oversupply problem in the oil industry.

Nebraska News

A 4-man delegation reported on the Mid-State Irrigation Project, set for hearings before House and Senate Interior subcommittees Thursday and Friday.

William Trommershausen, engineer for the Mid-State district, expressed optimism that progress would be made on the project, designed to provide irrigation for about 150,000 acres in Hall, Buffalo and Merrick Counties.

Prospects for authorization of the mult-million-dollar project by this session of Congress appear dim.

Air Service

Irving Epstein, Omaha assistant city attorney, and Ralph Nelson, Lincoln city attorney, discussed air service. They are seeking additional-north-south routes linking the two cities with Kansas.

"Kansas is the only neighboring state to which Nebraskans can't fly on a direct route," Epstein said.

Others at the breakfast included Lt. Gen. Guy Henninger, here for a national conference of state Selective Service directors, and Henry Grother, University of Nebraska law professor who is working for 4 months with a Senate Judiciary subcommittee on the problem of congestion on court calendars.

CHICAGO

Another advance in the butcher hog market Tuesday took prices to a peak of $17.75 a hundredweight, the highest in almost a year.

The top was paid for a few sorted mixed No. 1 and 2 grades weighing 200 lbs. That price was last paid on June 19.

The market ranged from weak on weights over 250 lbs. to 25 cents higher on offerings under 220 lbs.

Other offerings of all grades, mostly mixed, up to 220 lbs. were $17-17.50. Heavier weights were $15.25 and up. Sows were steady to strong at a $14.50 top.

Slaughter steers grading choice and better were steady, other grades steady to 50 cents lower. High choice brought $29-30, strictly choice up to $28.50, mixed good and choice up to $26.25 and good up to $26.

Choice to mixed choice and prime heifers moved at $25-28 and the good to low choice at $22.50-26. Vealers sold at $27-32 for good and choice and bulls at $20-22 for utility and commercial.

May Wheat Has Sharp Setback

Chicago (AP)—In its sharpest setback of the year Tuesday, May wheat skidded more than four cents a bushel to its lowest level in two months on the Board of Trade.

It was by far the broadest loser in an otherwise generally mixed grain futures market. The new crop months and soybeans were mostly firm.

The heaviest selling which dealers described simply as liquidation came during the final few minutes of trading and the price, still sinking at the close, was off about 7½ cents a bushel from its high of Monday. The net change since Friday was about 5 cents lower.

The weakness was described partly as disappointment in the trade over failure of the contract to give a better account of itself when nearly all others ended with gains Monday.

At the close, wheat was 4¼ cents a bushel lower on May to ½ cent higher on the new crop months. May $2.01¼-½; corn ⅜ higher to ½ lower, May $1.18⅝-¾; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, May 75¾; rye ¾ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.24¼; soybeans ⅛-⅜ higher, May $2.14¼-⅛.

Defense-Related Industries Help Lift Stock Prices

New York (AP)—Strength in defense-related industries spread to other groups and the stock market mounted a strong afternoon rally Tuesday.

Although declines outnumbered gains 520 to 507 among the 1,237 issues traded, there were enough strong advances by key issues used in popular averages to give the market a definitely higher tone. Based on the rise in the AP average, an estimated 1¾ billion dollars was added to the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Heavy trading brought volume to 4,080,000 shares compared with 3,530,000 Monday. This was the first four million share plus day since March 4 and the highest total since 4,210,000 shares were traded Feb. 17.

Gains for the most part ran from fractions to better than a point. Losses were fractional in most instances.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.30 to 214.30 with industrials up 2.30, rails up 1.60 and utilities down 0.20.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, off 1.75 at noon, closed with a gain of 4.24 to 621.63. Analysts noted this put the popular average in position to test the expected "resistance level" of 625-630.

American stock exchange prices were mostly higher on volume of 1,210,000 shares compared with 1,220,000 Monday.

Corporate bondss closed mixed but U.S. government bonds were mostly higher in quiet dealings.

Bond volume amounted to $6,100,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange compared with $5,750,000 Monday.

Financial Data Now Made More Available To Public

By MerryleE. Rukeyser

The dropping of a U-2 reconnaissance plane, operated by Francis G. Powers, into territory of the Soviet Union focuses worldwide attention on intelligence.

Rukeyser

In my forty years of professionally observing the ticks of the stock ticker, I have witnessed a revolution in the availability of financial intelligence.

There has been a dramatic turnabout in Wall Street from the secrecy imposed early in the century during the regimen of the original J. Pierpont Morgan and his ally, George F. Baker, head of the old First National Bank.

In those primitive times, the rule of the financial jungle was "treat 'em rough and tell 'em nothing."

Now the shoe is on the other foot.

Virtually every listed corporation, and most of those whose shares are merely traded over the counter, employ full-time public relations officers and most, in addition, retain outside public relations firms for advice and counsel.

The new "open door" policy of making financial informaton and analytical data readily available is carried forward with a bang.

Instead of playing hard to get, corporate presidents these days are competing for speaking invitations before local chapter meetings in various key cities of the Society of Security Analysts.

In an attempt to attract favorable attention from professional and amateur investors and speculators, corporate executives are coached as to how to put their best foot forward.

A few decades earlier, I used to specialize in getting important financiers to break their lifetime, self-imposed inhibitions against talking for publication. Among the silent men whom I converted into talkers for publication were such personalities as Orvin P. Van Sweringen, of Cleveland, the railroad tycoon, and Orlando F. Weber, president, Allied Chemical Corporation.

In the Nineteen Twenties, before the SEC was created and before New York State passed the Martin Fraud Act, the gatherer of financial data about promotional and other enterprises was on his own. I recall that while financial and business editor of the old New York Tribune, we found an ally in the Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission, which pioneered in requirements to file basic financial information.

Now internal and external public relations men vie with one another to attract the financial press to annual stockholders' meetings. In an earlier era, the enterprising Clarence W. Barron, manager of the Wall Street Journal, had to finagle to get his reporters inside corporate meetings. Barron's mode of operation was to buy a single share of stock in the corporation, and give the reporter a proxy to attend as representative of a registered share owner.

Now the superabundance of financial information available is collated and organized in convenient form by several statistical organizations, and there is no longer any excuse to proceed in the dark.

These statistical tools are avilable to the outsider in brokerage offices and in libraries.

With the facts out, is investment, accordingly, a foolproof, automatic procedure?

There is an illusion in some quarters that this is the case. Internally, the chief executive of an airline remarked to me: "It's easy now to be a chief executive. All the relevant facts can be assembled for you."

But, since executives, speculators and investors must make current commitments based on future expectations, there is still a risk element in the process.

As Bernard M. Baruch once told me: "Statistics can tell you what has happened."

The past may give a clue to the future, but this is not an automatic process. Obsolescence weakens old corporate heroes and continuously upgrades new ones.

The human factor of judgment affects current decisions about future events and developments—but past performance gives a clue as to how capable management may be in reacting to events.

A leopard may, under extraordinary circumstances, change his spots, but it is safer to bet the other way.

"Inside information" should not be permitted to becloud judgment. The best investments are made through analytical decisions on the basis of facts which are generally available.

Internationally, as long as the cold war lasts, it is inevitable that prudish governments will insist on checking self-serving ballyhoo with their own intelligence missions.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self-addressed envelopes, should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Bankruptcy Evidence Sought By Officials

Los Angeles (UPI)—State Attorney General Stanley Mosk said he is sending his Chief Deputy, Richard R. Rogan, to New York City to gather additional evidence in the investigation of the bankruptcy of the Equitable Plan, an industrial loan firm.

Some 4,400 investors lost an estimated 8 million dollars in the company operations once masterminded by Lowell M. Birrell, who now is in Brazil and has successfully fought attempts to bring him back to the United States for trial on swindling charges.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

MARSHAL MALINOVSKY TAGGED K.'S WATCHDOG

By Eddy Gilmore

Paris (AP) — Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky is a massive shadow of Premier Khrushchev at the summit.

Two Paris newspapers have called him Khrushchev's watchdog.

Malinovsky, the Soviet defense minister, believes the Soviet armed forces should always be a tool of the Communist Party. He is devoted to both the armed forces and to communism.

This husky veteran of two World Wars is in a position to see that the Army, Navy and Air Force toe the party line. He has voiced his views on the subject repeatedly.

Malinovsky became defense minister in 1957. He succeeded Marshal Georgie K. Zhukov, who was ousted in disgrace for opposing orders of the communist hierarchy intended to give party organizers a better grip on the uniformed services.

A Moscow meeting to reinforce these orders was completed shortly before Malinovsky and Khrushchev headed to Paris Saturday.

Malinovsky is a constant companion of Khrushchev in Paris.

The marshal sat on one side of Khrushchev at the explosive Big 4 meeting Monday and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on the other. U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, who attended, said Khrushchev seemed to be under tension and frequently looked at Gromyko and Malinovsky.

A broad-shouldered, hard-drinking man, Malinovsky looks the part of a soviet commander.

At 61 he is big-chested, round and solid, though his muscular cheeks are getting jowly. He stands about 5 feet 8. He is married and has two children.

He knows some words in French and English:

"I love you. Good night. Good morning."

KENNEDY HAS SOFT ANSWER

Portland, Ore. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) went on a hand-shaking tour of Oregon's Williamette Valley Tuesday, still giving a soft answer to Sen. Wayne Morse's sharp words.

Morse (D-Ore) who is competing against Kennedy for Oregon's Democratic presidential nod, attacked Kennedy's labor record and accused the Massachusetts senator of pouring out thousands of dollars in "trying to buy the White House."

In reply Kennedy visited Morse's home town of Eugene Tuesday, said he admired Morse, considered him competent, and thought he should be re-elected to the Senate in 1962.

In stops at shopping centers and a lumber mill at Eugene he also said Morse was not considered seriously as a presidential candidate, and it would not be wise to give Morse what would amount to a complimentary vote when there are serious candidates running.

Honeymoon Yacht Pauses At Trinidad

Port of Spain, Trinidad (AP) Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones went swimming at palm-fringed Golden Grove Bay Tuesday. It was the first day ashore on their honeymoon in the Caribbean.

The royal yacht Britannia anchored off Tobago Island's Pigeon Point a short way from Golden Grove. It was reported they will spend 3 days in a cottage.

Gov. Sir Edward Beetham issued a proclamation declaring Tobago and its territorial waters a prohibited area in order to give the honeymooners privacy.

Heavy Calf Losses Noted By Ranchers

. . . Hard Winter, Cool Spring Blamed

Broken Bow (AP)—A hard winter and an unusually cool and wet spring has been blamed for heavy calf losses in Custer County and the surrounding range area this spring.

General losses in the county have ranged from normal to 40% with a 70% loss noted in a few cases.

The long, wet and cold winter apparently tapped all the reserve strength of the mother cows, forcing them to utilize all their available food in an effort to keep warm. Cows were also abnormally weak from the feed shortage experienced during the winter and calves were therefore born in a weakened condition.

Agriculture officials also cited lack of exercise as a factor in the loss. The cows' muscles lacked the tone and strength necessary for normal and easy birth because of the immobilizing effect of the cold weather. In many cases the calf was too weak and cold to stand up after birth.

During the calving season it was impossible for a man to assist in every birth.

The milk this year also lacked its normal nutritional value and some vitamin A deficiency was noted. Scours was also abnormally heavy this year due to the cold and wet weather and feed shortage.

Big losses were noted by practically all ranchers.

Plastic Package Research May Aid Nebraska's Farmers

An announcement that industry is investing some $6 million in development of plastic packages that dissolve in water adds justification to Nebraska's research in high amylose corn products, Pearle Finigan, state agriculture director said Tuesday.

At the same time, he said, it demands that the state's program be speeded up to insure that the Nebraska farmer gets his share of this market.

A plastic film package that dissolves in water is one of the products that can be made from high amylose corn and one that is under study by Nebraska's industrial uses research program.

While the state could not afford to spend $6 million to develop a market for such products, the state's research money can develop a competing product that can possibly take a share of the market developed by the plastic industry, according to Finigan.

The soluable plastic is made from polyvinyl alcohol made from petroleum. Its uses may be in plastic soap packages that contain a measured amount of soap and dissolve in water.

A transparent wrapping film made from high amylose corn would have an additional advantage in that it would be edible and might be used, Finigan said, to contain a measured amount of instant coffee or measured quantities of ingredients for cake mixes and similar uses.

Nebraska has a study designed to further development of marketable products from high amylose corn under way at Midwest Research Institute in Kansas City, Mo.

The institute, which has developed numerous items for the federal government, including solid propellant fuel for missiles, has promised to give Nebraska's projects the same priority designed to bring rapid results as it assigns to its other important government research projects.

A proposal submitted last week by the institute would investigate 3 general types of chemical products which can be made from starch
